

* VOLUME 1, NUMBER 232

START MILK T. B. TEST

tatives are expected to attend the meeting which will be addressed by Edward Brown, state chairman for the committee for reduction of governmental expenditures. B. F.

FARMERS START T. B. MILK TEST AROUND WILTON

Says One Unit Would Help Farmers and End Depression

(Continued from Page One)

Norman Baker, Muscatine, who spoke before a crowd of between 2,500 and 3,000 persons here Wednesday evening.

That the same spirit of unrest pervades Muscatine county that has been encountered in other parts of the state, was evidenced by the remarkably large crowd from his own county who heard Mr. Baker speak.

The plan, which has as its foundation the uniting of all farmers into a single unit, must be carried out if the depression is to end, the speaker said.

"Don't let anybody fool you by saying the depression is about over," Mr. Baker said. "Unless we do something we are in for two more years of it. The hard times are not going to end this fall or next spring. Right now there is not an image of relief on the horizon," he continued.

The speaker said that under his plan only farmers would be admitted to the farm organization. Each group, the grain growers, stock raisers, dairymen, and other branches of farm work would have their separate units but all would belong to one mother organization.

Snags Predicted

"You are going to run into some snags regarding the organization," the speaker warned. "One of them is the deciding on which of the present organizations you will keep and which you shall do away with. The farm union members are going to say 'take our organization,' and I really believe the farm union has the best foundation for an organization, but they don't go far enough. The Grange members are going to urge that their organization be kept and members of the farm bureau are going to insist upon their group being the one to which all farmers shall belong. This best plan is to do away with all three of them and form an entirely new organization."

The speaker said that after organization had been completed, according to his plan, all members would be able to borrow money through managers in every county seat, from the United States government funds which are now being used to operate the various farm organizations. As security the members could mortgage their grain, stock or other produce, and then hold the material until fall, when they were willing to pay the price asked for it.

Farm Land Decreases

The speaker quoted figures from the United States census bureau showing the tremendous decrease in value of Iowa farm lands between the years 1920 and 1930 and also showing an alarming decrease in the number of farms in Muscatine county between those years.

"Now, why are there fewer farms in Muscatine county farms today than ten years ago?" he asked. "Here is one of the reasons. In Chicago you have a large packing plant, Armour brothers, and over at Ames you have a large agricultural college. A man by the name of Glen, I think it is, Curtis, is connected with that college in Ames. I want you farmers to look up the record of this man Curtis. I want you to find out if he isn't a member of the board of directors of Armour Brothers Packing company, and if you find that he is, then ask yourselves why a Chicago company would put one of their directors in the Ames agricultural college."

Cattle Tests Discussed

The reason is simple. They want the Iowa of your state influenced so that the packing companies can buy your cattle cheaper. And one of the ways this is done is through the kind of cattle for tuberculosis. This brings us to the tuberculosis test.

Some of the papers in the country have referred to the Dutchmen of Cedar county as a group of anarchists, revolutionaries and placed them in other classifications. The truth of the matter is that they are merely a bunch of farmers that the devil himself can't bluff. The speaker said and applause greeted his statement.

Mr. Baker declared that he could name no other paper besides the Free Press which had given a full discussion of the tuberculosis test law.

"This law says that cattle must be tested for tuberculosis," he continued, "but I fail to find any place in that law where it says tuberculosis shall be used in the test, and there isn't a lawyer in the state of Iowa smart enough to show Norman Baker where it says that tuberculosis shall be used."

Mr. Baker closed his address by urging the farmers to use great care in the selection of men for public office of the state. He declared the fact is frequently overlooked that the lieutenant governor is in many respects more important to the farmers than the governor himself, because the lieutenant governor has the appointment of committees. Instead of appointing farmers on the farm committees, in the past the farmers have been appointed to some unimportant post while the city man is named to the post which rightly belongs to the farmer, Mr. Baker said.

"The attorney general is another important office," the speaker said, "and whatever you do, never vote again for John Fletcher for attorney general of Iowa. He has been absolutely unfair to suffering humanity in the way he handled the Baker hospital case," he continued.

Mr. Baker said that it was high time the farmers broke the 48 years of solid entrenchment of the Republican party. This group have been in power too long, the speaker declared, and he would like the same way were the Democrats the controlling party."

(Acme Photo)

Elissa Landi, English film actress, who is recovering from an unintentional stab in the leg from a bayonet of a Russian soldier in motion picture.

Bayoneted

Elissa Landi, English film actress, who is recovering from an unintentional stab in the leg from a bayonet of a Russian soldier in motion picture.

Fire Prevention Week to Be Noted Here Oct. 4 to 10

The observance of a fire prevention week from Oct. 4 to 10, is being planned by the chamber of commerce. Arrangements have been made to secure two speakers, A. M. Upham and C. D. Wadsworth of the Iowa State Fire Prevention association, who will spend the entire day, Oct. 9 in the city.

Schoolmasters of County Elects Its Officers for Year

About twenty attended the Muscatine County Schoolmasters club meeting Wednesday night at Alameda, where officers for the coming year were elected and regular business transacted.

Prodigy Building Telescope Is Said to Have Great Power

DENVER—(INS)—A youthful giant who toiled with his great hands over minute lenses accurate to one-millionth of an inch is about to fulfill an ambition born of 13 years of study and work.

Carroll M. Spencer, 23, mental and physical prodigy, is constructing a telescope which, according to mathematical calculations, will have twice the power of an ordinary instrument because of its specially designed, vibrationless tube. It is declared far lighter, but nearly six times stronger than the type now in use.

Behind the building of the new telescope is the story of a remarkable boyhood. Spencer, who now stands six feet seven inches tall and weighs 200 pounds, has had few interests since his tenth year outside of mathematics and the construction of lenses.

While his schoolmates played football and attended to many social activities Spencer has worked hour after hour in his dingy laboratory in a vacant garage, working out mathematical formulas and putting his knowledge into practical use by making lenses for various technical instruments.

Spencer graduated from North Denver high school, following his graduation he took advanced courses in mathematics, cleaning all he could from extension courses in Denver University and the University of Colorado. He learned some-

ALLEGED BANK ROBBERS HAVE POLICE RECORDS

Only One of Group Does Not Have A Record

DES MOINES—(INS)—Two of the alleged bank robbers, arrested in Ottumwa, Saturday, at a golf club, where they were guests, have known police records, according to word received today from Washington, D. C., by James E. Risden, chief of the Iowa state bureau of identification.

R. G. Kaiser, said to be of Peoria, Ill., was the only one not recorded in the national capitol, Risden said. J. Enright, who gave his home as Indianapolis, was found to have been arrested as a robbery suspect in St. Louis in 1919. Later he was arrested in New York for petit larceny in 1929 as Harry Schaffer.

T. J. Marvin, also supposedly from Indiana, was arrested as Peter Larkin in 1918 in Toledo, Ohio, for robbery. He was re-arrested as a fugitive in Detroit that same year, as William Kramer. He later served sentence for robbing a bank in Larkins in the Mansfield, Ohio state penitentiary, the report showed.

When the trio was arrested, ammunition, rifles, a machine gun, and a quantity of nitro glycerine were found in their expensive auto which bore Indiana license plates. A pair of Ohio plates were also found in the car. Each was placed under $40,000 bond.

IOWAN FACES PRISON TERM

CRESTON, Ia.—(INS)—George Anderson of Afton, Ia., today faces a sentence of one to thirty years imprisonment after being found guilty by a Union county district court jury of charges of assault with intent to murder his former wife, Ruth Anderson.

The jury reported late last night and the court indicated that Anderson who is being held in the county jail here would be sentenced early next week.

Attorneys for the defense announced today that they will appeal the case.

Women's Missionary Elect Officers at Meeting at Church

Election of officers featured the meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary of the Cedar Street Methodist church at the church, Wednesday night. The devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Wesley Zeidler.

Mrs. Marie Ruthenberg was in charge of the Missionary study, the topics being, "Stewardship" and "College Abroad Movements." Reports for the year were also given. Following are the officers elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Marie Ruthenberg; vice president, Mrs. W. D. Diercks; secretary, Mrs. Edward Diercks; treasurer, Miss Hannah Zeidler; Standard Bearer counselor, Mrs. Clarence Bloom; assistant counselor, Miss Dorothy Kemper; King's Herald counselor, Mrs. H. C. Hiller, corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Ahlslager; Sunshine Bag secretary, Miss Lorena Hess; Mite Box secretary, Miss Edna Leibbrand; Newspaper reporter, Mrs. Will Moore.

The next meeting of the society will be held on Oct. 13 at the home of Mrs. W. D. Diercks, 501 Grandview avenue.

Leffingwell Rites Are Conducted at Los Angeles Home

Funeral services for George R. Leffingwell, former Muscatine county resident and old settler of this vicinity, who died Sunday night from injuries received in an automobile accident in Los Angeles, were held today from his home in that city.

Mr. Leffingwell, who was a brother-in-law of Attorney F. W. Evermeyer and Dr. E. B. Spersmeyer of this city, suffered fatal injuries when he was run down by an automobile while walking near his home.

Sound Corner

Due to the fact that the fall festival began tonight and because of the night football game at Jefferson field Friday night, the public appearance of the American Legion drum and bugle corps and the playing of two football games will not be held until some later date, probably next week, officials said today.

Mrs. D'Arlene Holcomb, her mother, Mrs. A. E. McNutt of California, Harold C. Lawrence and Mrs. A. S. Lawrence, 618 East Ninth street, at whose home they are visiting, left for Chicago today. They will visit at the home of Walter M. Curtis of La Grange, Ill., a former resident of Wilton.

Automobiles driven by Bernie Hayes, 403 West second street and George Herwig, 180 South George street, collided on Fourth street, near the postoffice Wednesday evening, according to report made to the police. No one was injured, but both cars were damaged.

Gertrude and Mable Edwards were granted a building permit today from the office of H. H. Fitzgerald, city engineer, for the construction of a concrete block garage on Orange street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, at an approximate cost of $300.

Automobiles driven by Maynard Lukvasky, 225 West Second street and W. H. Jordan, Letta, figured in a crash this afternoon on Hershey street near the McKee Butten factory. No one was injured but both cars were slightly damaged.

New cars were registered Wednesday as follows: Lyle Wilson, 1201 Cedar street, Plymouth coupe; Bertha Kelly, Muscatine, Dodge sedan; National laundry, 706 Monroe street, Chevrolet truck.

Allowing of bills and claims was the only business transacted by the county board supervising at the concluding session Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Alvin McIntire, 1238 Cedar street, N. Y., are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gabel, 203 Fillmore street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lem White, 204 Cedar street, N. Y., are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gabel, 203 Fillmore street.

Regular gym classes will start at the school Monday. A. A. Secretary Ben Gallaher announced today.

Suit for Divorce Is Instituted by Nellie Schauland

A divorce on grounds of cruelty is asked in a petition filed today in district court by Nellie Schauland against Charles Schauland. The petition, filed by Attorneys Drake and Wilson, states that the couple was married Sept. 26, 1930, and lived together until July 27, 1931.

With Sick Friends At Baker Hospital

The following new patients have been admitted to the Baker hospital: C. H. Lewis of Canada, Mrs. W. E. Meyer, Mrs. Josephine Dolezal, Mrs. Viretta Russell, Christ Johnson, C. J. Heckenberg, Fred Stohman and L. E. Waddington, all of Iowa.

DISTRICT COURT

Orders appointing Arthur Tutts as guardian of the interests of Dora Smith, incompetent, and C. H. Fishburn as guardian ad litem, were signed by Judge C. L. Ely Wednesday. Application for the appointment was made by Maude Smith.

The final report of J. M. Kemble as executor of the estate of George B. Fuller, has been approved by Judge D. V. Jackson.

The Sunnyside Chick Hatchery Co., named as defendant in a suit for $197.76 brought by the Royal Manufacturing Co., filed a motion today to divide the action into separate counts. F. L. Bihlmeier is attorney for the defendants and Attorney Robert E. Brooke is representing the plaintiff.

J. R. Giesler and George Hallock, guardians of Archie Hallock, of unusual mind, filed their bond in the sum of $12,000.

Oh, Say!

Has the cost of living got you worried? Then it's time to come to the store. It's a temptation to buy out the store, things are so low priced.

COTTON BATT—Pure cotton batt. Regular $1.29 grade. Going at 59c

KIDNEY BEANS—Red kidney beans, tall can Special 5c

CRETONNES, Prints, Shirts and Gingham. Fast colors. 36 inches wide. All going at per yard 9c

FINKLE'S General Store

More Values for Less Money 322 East Second Street Muscatine, Iowa

PYLE INDICTED ON 5 CHARGES

Eleven Indictments Are Returned by Grand Jury

Eleven indictments, three of which were returned by the grand jury which completed its work for the September term of court this afternoon and reported to Judge C. L. Ely. Eight no-bills were returned.

Joe Pyle, alleged Sioux City, Ia., gangster, who with Byron Green, now serving a five-year term in the penitentiary at Ft. Madison, after they had engaged a sheriff and police squad in a running gun fight near Wilton last April, was indicted on five counts. If given the maximum sentences on the five charges, Pyle would go to prison for 95 years, County Attorney Harold E. Wilson said today.

The true bills returned are as follows:

Joe Pyle, assault with intent to murder Sheriff P. B. Nesper.

Joe Pyle, assault with intent to murder Chief of Police Mark Taylor.

Joe Pyle, larceny of a motor vehicle.

Joe Pyle, robbery with aggravation.

Joe Pyle, kidnapping.

Ella Green, liquor nuisance.

Edward Miller, liquor nuisance.

T. G. McClellan, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

No bills were returned in the following cases:

William H. Green, maintaining a liquor nuisance.

Otto Sorenson, transmitting a venereal disease.

Alvin Gander, larceny.

L. C. Brightwell, maintaining a liquor nuisance.

William Phillips, child desertion.

William Nagel, operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Frank Bowers, maintaining a liquor nuisance.

Harry Overly, maintaining a liquor nuisance.

William Reddick, 23, rape.

Many Tickets Sold For New Era Event

NEW ERA—(Special)—more than 200 tickets have already been sold for the Phinios club's dinner, which will be served this evening in the New Era Community house, in connection with the fourteenth annual fall festival sponsored by the club. The Springfield Girls' orchestra of Muscatine, will present a program tonight.

The gymnasium, in which the event is being held has been decorated for the occasion by members of the club. Judging was to start this afternoon.

Waterloo Docket Heavy

WATERLOO, Ia.—(INS)—271 new cases were on file here today for the September term of court. 101 of them are for divorce, and there are also 210 old cases pending.

CHELSEA BANK BANDITS SOUGHT

CHELSEA, Ia.—(INS)—Police were searching today for bandits who last night drilled a hole in the wall of the First National bank building here, gained entrance to the bank and escaped with $75.

Efforts to open the safe failed but officials reported the bank had been ransacked.

IOWA ROBBER BEING SOUGHT

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia.—(INS)—A lone bandit who last night robbed Karl Allen, of $35 and took $1.50 from his companion, Mrs. Erma Percy is being sought here today.

The bandit escaped in another motor car after holding up the pair while they were parked in an automobile on the outskirts of the city.

George Voge's Car Struck by Hit, Run Driver Wednesday

An automobile driven by George H. Voge, 1113 1st avenue, was struck by a hit and run driver on Sixth street near Orange street Tuesday evening, according to a report made at the police station. Mr. Voge attempted to halt the other driver but he drove away and threw some beer bottles out of the car, according to the report.

The Voge car was considerably damaged in the crash. The police were informed the driver of the other automobile was apparently intoxicated. Police are today checking up on what they believe was the license number of the other automobile.

Pythians Plan to Be at Meeting of Davenport Lodge

Plans for the local lodge's attendance at a meeting and party to be held by Davenport lodge No. 10 of Davenport Monday evening, will be discussed at a meeting of Wyomings lodge No. 76, Knights of Pythias, at Pythian hall Friday evening. The invitation was received by the local lodge last Friday.

It is expected that the rank of page will be conferred upon a class of candidates at the local lodge's meeting Friday.

Springfield Named G. A. R. Convention City for Year 1932

DES MOINES, Ia.—(INS)—Springfield, Ill., today was selected by members of the Grand Army of the Republic as the 1932 convention city.

Cleveland and Milwaukee also sought the sixty-sixth annual encampment.

Dates for the convention will be set when the commander in chief of the G. A. R. and his staff visit the Illinois capital next January.

Speaking Dates Of Norman Baker

Many of our friends have phoned and written us regarding the various speaking dates arranged for Norman Baker, and we are pleased to mention them as follows:

Sept. 17—LeClair, Ia. Indian schoolhouse No. 4, two and half miles north of Pleasant Valley, take route 55 out of Davenport to Pleasant Valley. Speaking at 8 p. m.

Sept. 19—Fairbanks, Ia. Picnic, ball game and boxing. Speaking at 2 p. m. K-TNT artists also will appear.

Sept. 19—Washington park, Waterloo, Ia. Speaking at 7 p. m.

Sept. 20—Mt. Vernon, Ia. Speaking at 1:30 p. m.

Sept. 20—Keystone, Ia. speaking at 4 p. m.

Sept. 26—Gerrard, Ill. few miles north of Monmouth. Speaking at 1 p. m.

Sept. 27—Kositz, Ia. eight miles west of Marengo on route 73. Speaking at 2:30 p. m.

Oct. 4-5—Naturapathic association, Naturopathic, Indianapolis, Ind.

Nov. 5—Des Moines, Ia. Junior Chamber of Commerce. Speaking at 12 Noon.

Speaking dates can be arranged for the appearance of Mr. Baker. Address him at Muscatine, Iowa.

Twenty-Four Latin Members Initiated Into Organization

Twenty-four Muscatine high school students were initiated into the Latin club at the first meeting of the semester at the school Wednesday night. Clifford Worst, president of the organization, was in charge.

The new members follow: Ruth Stevenson, Earl Penrod, Bernice Gravatt, Anna Mae White, Bettina Hunter, Alice Linde, Wanda Zeller, Gretchen Korneman, Nadine Young Jack Wilson, Norman Horst, Milcent Masonholder, Victor Sparling, Elinor Appel, Evelyn Siberty, Lorraine Ward, Marian and Jeannette Smalley, Margaret Eversmeyer, Geraldine Roth, Irma Lamprecht, Agnes Houk, Helen Breddlove, and Wilma Alterbernd.

Miss H. Margaret Kemble, faculty instructor, announced that the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Latin club will be observed on December 4. A special program is now being arranged to celebrate the event by members of the organization.

Coster Sentences 4 for Intoxication

Three men were fined and one sentenced to 15 days in jail when arraigned before Justice J. C. Coster this morning on charges of intoxication. They gave their names as Oakley McGinnis, John Strain, Peter Hartz and Fred Geltz.

The first three paid fines of $5 and costs each and Geltz was given the jail sentence.

ARGUMENTS END IN LIGHT CASE

Action for Mandamus Under Advisement By Judge Ely

The application of Henry Hell and others for a writ of mandamus to compel the town council of Wilton to call a special election for a vote in which to decide whether the council shall enter a contract with the Iowa Electric company for purchase of electrical power, was taken under advisement by Judge C. L. Ely in district court today.

Arguments by attorneys, which began Wednesday afternoon, were completed this morning at 10 o'clock. Late Wednesday Judge Ely granted attorneys for the plaintiffs the permission to file an amendment to their original petition. The amendment states that although 120 days have elapsed since the date of the offer of the Iowa Electric company to furnish the town of Wilton with electrical energy, the company is still willing to enter into the contract.

A writ of injunction restraining the town council from accepting bids for adding improvements to the municipal plant, was issued at the previous hearing on Aug. 20. Appeal from this action was taken by the defendants.

V. H. Lear, manager of the Iowa Electric company here, was the only witness summoned at the hearing by the defense.

RAIN HALTS PIPE LINE

VTRA CRUZ, Mexico—(INS)—Rains have delayed completion of the 223 kilometer oil pipe line from Paloma Sol to Mexico City, but the line is expected to be in operation within a few weeks. Seven pump stations have been built to regulate the oil flow.

WE'RE SORRY

If you can't save money. We're doing our part to help you save. If you don't believe it, LOOK:

DISH PANS—Granite Dish Pans. While they last, each 19c

NOTICE!—Don't take our word for it: just come in and examine the values, like hundreds of others are doing.

IVORY SNOW—Real Ivory soap. Regular price 15c pkg. Ben Finkle price 2 packages 15c

LAUNDRY SOAP—Yellow or white. Buy by the dozen bars. While it lasts 5c

FINKLE'S General Store More Values for Less Money 322 East Second Street Muscatine, Iowa

BARNARD'S JEWELRY STORE

SENSATIONAL SUPPLUS STOCK

Liquidation SALE

For Friday and Saturday

AGAIN OFFER AMAZING REDUCTIONS

Elgin Watches Buren Watches Diamond Rings Gold Jewelry Silverware

1/2 Price

Other Special Items For Those Coming in Friday and Saturday

28 Pc. Roger Silver Sets Complete service for six people. Hollow handle knives, stainless steel blades. Regular value $25.00. $12.50

Bon Bon Dishes Regular 75c value. Only one to a customer. 35c

Hot Dish Pads The regular 35c kind. Only two to a customer. Each 15c

Barnard's Jewelry Store

213 East Second Street

SOCIETY CHATTER, FEATURES and HELPFUL HINTS for the WOMEN

P. T. A. Enjoys First Meeting Of New Season

supt. and Mrs. Henry Van Hattum were honored at the first fall meeting of the Jefferson, Jackson and Grant schools Parent-Teacher association Wednesday evening at Jefferson school. The meeting opened with a welcoming address to Mr. and Mrs. Van Hattum by the president of the P. T. A., Mrs. J. D. Pulliam. Mr. Hattum responded with a short talk. The Rev. Tom Foglesong led the devotion service and the community singing. Charles Hagermann entertained with a short talk followed by instrumental selections by the Michels sisters. Mrs. G. B. Samuels entertained the group with a reading. A feature of the evening was the reception of 18 new members into the organization. A social time followed the program with coffee and cake. Miss Minette Heady winning prizes in a contest conducted. Dorothy Schmidt received the consolation award. Refreshments were served later by a committee.

The P. T. A. will convene again Oct. 21.

Mrs. Huston Honored On Birthday

Sixty-nine relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Huston north of New Boston on Sunday Sept. 13th to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Huston.

A catered dinner was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Huston and Oris, Ralph, Clayton, Elsie, Lytle and Leo, Mrs. William Monson and son Junior, Mr. and Mrs. George Huston and children Ray, Mary, and June, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spitznogle, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Jourdan and daughter Betty June, Orson Spitznogle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spitznogle and Kenneth Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fuller and children, Edward, Carol and Freda, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sims and children, Clifford Sims and June, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Darlene Spitznogle, Hugh Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spitznogle and daughter June, Mrs. C. J. Minder and Mrs. John Welch and sons, Lytle and Leo, Mr. and Mrs. James Welch and children, Phyllis, Wilma, Martha and Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hockenberry and children, Mary, Annabel, Billie and Bonnie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kane and children Clayton, Hilda and Helen, Mart Wherry and Miss Geneva Gilbert.

Y-Committee Has Meeting

The physical education committee of the Y. W. C. A. met yesterday at the association building to discuss the activities of their department for the ensuing year. Mrs. W. J. Cullen, chairman, presided at the meeting.

The committee voted to allow matrons to enter the morning gym classes at a fee rate of $10.50 for the year if they enroll by Jan. 1. They further decided that any Y member securing five new members will be entitled to free membership.

Mrs. Holzhauser Is M. W. Hostess

Eleven members of the M. W. club of the R. N. A. met in regular business session at the home of Mrs. Fannie Holzhauser, 516 Main street, Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served later by the hostess.

Mrs. Flora Dunker will be honored at a birthday party by the club members, Sept. 23, at the home of Mrs. Holzhauser.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Wollett, 511 East Eleventh street, Oct. 21.

Rev. and Mrs. Ward to Be Entertained

The congregation of Park Avenue Methodist church will honor their retiring pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Ward, at a supper and reception Friday evening at the church. A pot luck supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock followed by an informal evening. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Ward will leave Monday for Fairfield to reside.

Mrs. Blanch Mittman of Moline Entertains

Twelve members of the Lowe Run Kensington society were entertained at the home of Mrs. Blanch Mittman in Moline, Ill., Wednesday. A pot luck dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was enjoyed socially. Mrs. Mittman, who formerly resided in Muscatine, was a member of the club.

The group will be entertained at the home of Mrs. James Sywassink in Lake Township, Sept. 30.

Grace Church Aid Holds Meeting

Members of Grace English Lutheran Aid society met in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon for their regular work meeting. Mrs. Walter Hartman and Mrs. John Havemann served refreshments.

When the aid convenes next Wednesday, Mrs. Fred Heigh and Mrs. Kate Holtz will be the committee in charge.

Committee Meeting At Y Friday

The Sunshine Susans of the Y. W. C. A. will meet with the Industrial and Business Girls' committee Friday night at 7 o'clock at the Y to plan for the party to be held at the Gloomy Gertie Tuesday night. Miss Ella Reuling will preside at the meeting.

Sewing Circle Will Not Meet Friday

The Protestant Evangelical Sewing circle will not meet Friday as previously arranged.

Elopes

Low Ayres, 25, who vanished in two years from college days at the University of Arizona to motion picture fame, and Lola Lane, 22, Hollywood screen actress, eloped to Las Vegas, Nev., Tuesday.

Judge William Orr performed the ceremony. Leroy Mason, Hollywood actor, who owns a ranch here, and Louise Graham were witnesses.

Maxine Lindsey Weds Ed. Lynes At Madison, Wis.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Maxine Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindsey, 609 Orange street to Ed. Lynes of Madison, Wis. The ceremony took place at that place on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with Justice of Peace Dodge officiating. Robert Eno of Madison accompanied the couple.

Mrs. Lynes is employed at the Road and Musser company and will leave Sept. 26 to join Mr. Lynes at Madison. The latter is now linotype operator on the Capital Times in Madison and formerly was a member of the Free Press staff. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lynes of Mankato, Minn.

First Friends Aid Holds Meeting

Fourteen members of the First Friends Ladies' Aid society met in work session Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. Fifty gross buttons were carded and a meeting conducted. Mrs. Jacob Stelrecht gave a report on the yearly meeting of First Friends Missionary societies over Iowa held recently in Oskaloosa. Mrs. Mills and Mrs. Lou Herwig served refreshments later in the afternoon.

The aid will meet again next Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Rann Is Class Hostess

Mrs. Fred Rann, Lake township, entertained 12 members of the Lutheran class of High Prairie Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at her home. Mrs. C. J. Minder led the devotion service and roll call was answered by "How I Spent My Vacation This Summer." The hostess served refreshments later in the afternoon.

The class will meet again Oct. 21, but a meeting place has not yet been decided.

Park Avenue Aid Holds Election

Officers were elected when the Park Avenue Methodist Ladies' Aid society met in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon as follows: Mrs. August Klebe, president; Mrs. Hugh Walker, first vice president; Mrs. Elmer Johnson, second vice president; Mrs. C. J. Rittenhouse, secretary; Mrs. W. F. Martin, assistant secretary and Mrs. S. G. Kendig, treasurer.

Rev. and Mrs. Polk To Be Honored

The Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Polk and daughter, Myrna, will be honored at a reception at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday night. The occasion will be a farewell party given by the congregation as the pastor has been transferred from the Sweetland circuit to the Cedar circuit in the Oskaloosa district.

Epworth Will Have Outing Friday

Epworth league members and their friends of the First Methodist church will have an outing at Rotary hut Friday night. All planning to attend are requested to meet at the church at 7 o'clock.

Legion Auxiliary Will Convene

The American Legion auxiliary will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Legion club rooms.

A pantry shelf shower is one greatly appreciated by the bride-to-be. Cans and jars of fruits, vegetables, jellies, preserves, jams and relishes can be included as well as small cooking utensils, pot holders, waxed paper and other small essentials for the pantry shelves.

Save all the liquid from mustard pickles and add it to salad dressing in place of fresh vinegar and mustard. When making meat sandwiches this liquid may be mixed with the meat.

Always have two dishcloths on hand. Then one can be hung on the line each day to sweeten while the other is in use.

Mrs. Crow Gives Party Honoring Mrs. McAllister

Honoring Mrs. Eugene McAllister of Washington, D. C., Mrs. A. W. Crow, 1123 Orchard street, entertained a group of friends at her home Wednesday evening. Cards formed the pleasure of the guests and later in the evening the hostess served refreshments.

Those present for the occasion were: Mrs. Carl Banks of Davenport, Mrs. James Sywassink, the Messes Hazel Brel, Linda Kinder, Peggy Klopfenstein, Genevieve Frichard and Ruth Snider.

Mrs. McAllister, who prior to her marriage was Miss Alma Kinder, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kinder, 1002 Newell avenue.

I. F. W. C. Board Will Hold Meet At Des Moines

DES MOINES.—(Special) — The hospitality of the city of Des Moines will be extended to the several hundred women attending the semi-annual meeting of the board of the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs in Des Moines Sept. 23-25 through the courtesy of Mrs. Carl Weeks and Mrs. Dan Turner. The former will open Salisbury House with its rich and tasteful furnishings and beautiful architecture for a tea on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Guests will be limited to accredited delegates or committee members. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Turner will receive the executive committee and visiting officials at tea at her home on Greenwood Drive, in honor of federation officers.

The two days of intense devotion to planning the work for the forthcoming two years will be further interspersed with a banquet on Thursday evening on which occasion Rev. Stoddard Leary, pastor of Plymouth church in Des Moines will introduce the new division of Religious Education by an address on that subject. Mrs. Eugene Cullen of Des Moines, former corresponding secretary of the federation will have charge of the new division. Mrs. Rob Roy Cernay will also read from "The Barren Fig Tree" on the banquet program.

Two other new ventures are the department of Public Affairs and the division of poetry, plans for both to be presented at these meetings. Mrs. H. C. Gratiot of Dubuque will direct the former and Mrs. Lewis Worthington Smith the latter. Mrs. Smith will present a "poetry shelf" for the inspection of the visitors which will contain many volumes of poetry both new and old and will offer further examples of the powerful utterances and prophecies of the modern poets.

All sessions will be held at Hotel Ft. Des Moines and will begin with an executive committee meeting on Wednesday afternoon Sept. 23 at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Eugene Henely of Grinnell, first vice chairman of the federation has been appointed chairman of the Helen Taylor campaign. Mrs. H. C. Taylor of Bloomfield is Iowa's candidate for first vice president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, an organization of more than 16,000 women's clubs in United States and foreign countries, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Taylor is now acting as recording secretary of the organization and having been at one time president of the Iowa federation will receive hearty support from Iowa women who will attend the convention at Seattle, Washington, next June where the election will be held.

Women Powdered Back in 3,200 B. C.

PARIS.—(INS)—Woman has not changed since the day she was born. She has even been a "grande coquette." Paint and powder were part and parcel of her pretty face as early as 3,200 B. C. according to M. L. Legrain, art student.

In the recent "Gazette des Beaux Arts," he describes with minute detail the manner in which Queen Shou-Bad of the 18th century used Shou-Bad of 4000 years ago. Excavations recently made in these parts reveal the fact that this worthy personage made use of a very special turquoise-blue paste for her eyelids.

All the ladies-in-waiting had their little powder-compacts even in those early days, usually made of little shells. And in all the perfume-shops one could find "re-fills."

WOMEN ANNOUNCERS BARRED; MANY PROTESTS

LONDON.—(INS)—Because the bulk of the letters addressed to the Italian radio stations has consisted of love letters to the charming women announcers, the authorities have decided to disperse with female announcers altogether, according to the "Wireless World."

Three-fourths of the correspondence received at the stations have been burning love missives addressed to the "speakers," the journal said.

The London "Evening Star," in an editorial commenting on the reported decision, said: "It seems a harsh and drastic cure for a simple and not very grave complaint. A simpler solution would have been to burn the letters. Surely it is no offense for a lady to provide more revenue for the postal department."

DARÉ INTERPRETS the MODE

Cost-negligence of black and pink chiffon georgette, to be worn over nightgown or lounging pyjamas. (A Dah-ray design).

IF you're not sure—don't! Because if you do, you'll be sorry and the people who have to look at you will be sorry. Don't do WHAT? Don't, my dears, yield to the lure of wearing any of the various forms of little peplums that have come in with all the rest of the Autumn styles, for they are attractive only on a slender, perfectly formed woman.

Afternoon frocks and evening dresses both have made use of back drapings and bows and puffed panels—and very quaint and lovely they are too. IF they are worn by a slender, graceful young thing whose slender youth can carry such dangerous aids to fashion attractively. But for those of us who are large across the hips or across the back, or who are short, these peplums are definitely bad. They cut us off and make us look shorter and broader than we are. And as this Autumn brought with it such quantities of unusual lines, we can easily suit our own type of figure while we retain our last-minute smartness!

The Beauty Sorceress
IT'S a little Muffet, sitting down the way you do on your tuffet—I CAN'T help noticing your—er—r—limbs! Not only are they graceful, but they're absolutely hair-free!

"If you will be rude enough to comment on personal details, my dear, you don't deserve to hear WHY I have no hair on my legs in spite of summer sun which stimulates and awakens hair growth! But as there are lots of people who SHOULD know, I'll tell you! First, I remove the hair growth with a good depilatory, or by shaving—"

"But doesn't that make the hair reappear, and get thicker and more bristly?"

"You interrupted me! After the hair has been removed completely the first time, I take with me when I'm in the bathtub—every single time—a pumice stone. And I scrub my legs well with this pumice stone every day—" so, the hair never gets the chance to reappear. The only thing to be careful about is not to scrub so hard with the pumice that it takes the skin off along with the hair!"

On H-O-O-O-O, what is the gorgeous thing ladies are wearing today? Why, a negligee, or COMMO! All black chiffon, interspersed and lined with pink chiffon, to be sure—all tightly tied at the normal waistline, with a sash affair that trails—and high necked, with black sash ends that float 'n' float. Well, and sleeves, and little "shoes" of pink and black at the wrists. And her negligee is worn over either a pink satin nightgown, or—well, watch next week for the black chiffon pyjamas that this negligee REALLY belongs to!

Au Revoir!
(Copyright 1931 By Associated Newspapers)

meringue made by beating whites of two eggs with one-eighth level teaspoon cream of tartar until stiff, but not dry, and then adding gradually 1-3 cup powdered sugar, beating well after each addition. Spread this over pie and bake in a moderate oven until brown.

Or Try Grape Conserve
Or perhaps your fancy turns to grape conserve, which is made with 4 pounds Concord grapes, 1-2 pound figs, 3 oranges, 1 lemon.

Sugar
Wash and pick over the grapes, removing stems. Place in a kettle with a small amount of water and simmer until the seeds are free. Then put the mixture through a sieve, discarding the seeds. Cut up the oranges and lemon very fine and add to the grapes. Measure and use equal parts of fruit and sugar. Boil until thick and put in sterilized glasses.

Spiced grape butter will also fit in on many occasions. Wash grapes carefully, remove stems, separate pulp from skins. Heat pulp to boiling point and strain through sieve to remove seeds. Add strained pulp to skins and to each five cups of fruit add four cups of brown sugar and one teaspoon each of cloves and cinnamon. Boil an hour, stirring frequently, add 1-4 cup vinegar and cook until butter is thick. Seal at once in sterilized jars.

Chocolate Custard
One quart milk, 2 eggs, 2½ heaping tablespoons cornstarch, 2 heaping tablespoons grated chocolate, 6 tablespoons sugar. Heat milk in double boiler. When at boiling point add eggs well beaten with the cornstarch, then add sugar, little salt. Stir constantly till it is about like soft custard. Then from fire add 1 teaspoon vanilla. When cool pour into sherbet glasses, serve with whipped cream.

Directions for the pie like this:
4 cups concord grapes.
2 eggs.
1 cup sugar.
2 level tablespoons flour.
Sprinkle on ground cloves.
Wash grapes and separate skins from pulp. Cook pulp in upper part of double boiler for 20 minutes. Then press through a coarse strainer and add the skins. Separate the eggs and add the unbeaten yolks and the dry ingredients to the grapes. Mix well.
Line a pie tin with plain pie paste, pour the grape mixture into it and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 45 minutes. Cover with a

THE LOVE MASQUE By Barbara Webb

(Copyright By Public Ledger)

CHAPTER XVII Competition

WHEN Phyllis woke the next morning she started in bewilderment at the rattled ceiling and the walls hung with bright-colored blankets. The smell of boiling coffee assailed her nostrils and she sniffed it eagerly.

"Boy, but I'm hungry," she yawned, stretching herself luxuriously, "and it's a long time since I really felt a hollow inside me." She reached for the bathrobe which Mrs. Hutton had advised her to take, and started for the shower which she was sharing with Kay.

"Hello!" Kay was just rubbing herself down. "Hope I didn't disturb your girlish slumbers. It's only 9 o'clock."

"It was the smell of coffee that woke me up," Phyllis reassured her. "do you think there is any hope of an immediate breakfast?"

"Sure, breakfast is an important meal up here," Kay laughed. "Just wait and see what Nick expects you to eat. Nick has looked after this lodge ever since father built it, and he treats us both on our feet, he's during the week or so that any of us come up during the year. His sweet-breasts are a joy, and his omelets are fit for the angels."

Phyllis had been too tired and sleepy the night before to notice much about the lodge, but she stopped for a moment for the doorway of the great room that ran full across the front of Chateau Loupe on her way to breakfast. At each end of the room was a great open fireplace in which cedar logs were burning and sending out pungent odors. Bright-colored curtains had been drawn back from the windows that overlooked the frozen lake and bright sunshine flooded the room.

"You have not changed your liking for the northland overnight, Miss Marjorie?" softly Count Slavin spoke behind her.

"I love it even more this morning," cried Phyllis. "Do let's have some breakfast quickly so we can get out and toboggan or do something in that glorious sunshine." She turned around to smile a good morning at him, but changed her greeting to an exclamation of surprise.

Count Teddy Transformed
In place of his always meticulously correct, almost dapper, suit of Western cut, Count Teddy wore baggy trousers tucked into high leather boots and a velvet smock gathered at the waist with a morocco belt studded with silver in a queer Egyptian design.

"You've reverted to self back in my natural surroundings, you see," he said with a smile that somehow hurt Phyllis. All the loneliness of an exile was concentrated in it.

"You have never skated in your baby in a perfectly plain pattern of silver. These three beautifully proportioned pieces come in a pink flannel case."

SO NEW
New, and ever so charming, is a street dress of dark brown satin. This frock has a wide V neck line, untrimmed, and relies upon the unusual sleeves and belt for interest. Wide flaring cuffs as well as tight inner ones are of beige satin as in the wide belt that is treated to produce a crimped effect.

BLACK WITH BLUE
Many of the very newest evening gowns are of black, all black or with touches of color. One very beautiful model is of crepe-de-chene embroidered in tiny motifs of turquoise blue and gold.

FOR A GIFT
Think how grateful a hostess would feel to receive as a bread and butter gift, a smart looking flat box covered with a brown swede like material with her initials in gold in one corner, and three pairs of stunning silk stockings in just the right shades with-in!

BLACK AND SILVER
Most luxurious trifles for the dressing table or bath room are boxes and bottles in black and silver. The powder box very square and simple, the tall four-sided bottle and flat vanity case are all bits of real beauty.

A STITCH IN TIME
A small oblong case of leather has a convenient slide fastener and contains needles, scissors and small spoons of thread all very ship-shape and compact.

Wrap-Around
Surely the designer was inspired, who designed the wrap-around slip of heavy crepe-de-chine. This slip is so fitted and gored as to be adaptable to every figure, and has the added advantage of being shapely. The slip is trimmed with a net edge.

For the Baby
It is now possible to purchase a set of knife, fork and spoon for the

When broiling a steak, cut off excess fat around edge to prevent it from catching fire when placed below glowing fire.

To remove brown stains from light colored ranges, dip a cloth in turpentine and apply to stains. With a little pressure the stains will come off.

STARTING SUNDAY

Shows 1:45-7:15-9:00
PALACE
MAT. 25c EVE. 10c-40c

LAST TIMES TONIGHT
CLAUDETTE COLBERT
IN
'SECRETS OF A SECRETARY'

Chas. Murray Comedy—News
FRI.—SAT.
Dick Bartholomew
'The Last Flight'

ALSO
Chapter No. 1 of 'Danger Island'
KIDS 5c MATINEE SAT.

CRYSTAL
Theatre—Tonight
10c Night
10c to 10c to Everyone
Kay Johnson
Neil Hamilton
John Halliday
IN
'The Spy'

Startling expose of the secret police system of Soviet Russia.
Come to the Crystal—the Second Street Movie House.

CUT IN MARRIAGE FEES

BEDFORD, Ind.—(INS)—Locally, at least, this business of price cutting has extended to the very altar of matrimony; and behold—a 50-cent reduction on the marriage fee. Justice J. V. Stapp reports that recently a couple asked "How much do you charge for giving the knot?" "$25.00," was the reply. Whereupon, the young bridegroom said that he knew of a country preacher who would charge only $20.00. Stapp said he feels inclined to meet all competition and has decided to charge $20.00 per marriage, but no less.

Cauliflower cannot be stored satisfactorily. In storing it loses its color and flavor.

$10 TEETH $10

At Prices of Twenty Years Ago
We Guarantee YOU A PERFECT FIT

Good Dust Rubber Plate $10
Very Best Rubber Plate $15

Hecolite and Alcolite Plates

If you have had trouble in getting a plate to fit you, come in and see us. We guarantee you a fit where others have failed.

20th Century Amalgam Fillings .....$1.00
Porcelain Fillings .....$2.00
Teeth Cleaned .....50c
(School Children 50c)
Extraction by nerve block.....$1.00

Everything in Dentistry
FIRST CLASS WORK
ALL GUARANTEED
Open Every Day and Evening

SMITH Dentists

130 E. Second St. Ph. 824

As We See It

What of 1932?

What of 1932? That question is giving a mighty lot of professional politicians headaches—and it should, not because the answer is difficult but because the politicians are perplexed as to what to do about it.

Self-styled progressives in Washington are "viewing with alarm" and when they reach that state you must know the time has come for them to sound the clarion call for action, action in this case meaning to remind the voters not to forget that they (the progressives) must not be confused with the conservative heads of the party.

It must be self-evident that the people are awakening to the fact that something must be done and are showing unmistakable signs of being willing to do something. It is a most natural reaction for voters to condemn those in power for the ills and misfortunes that have arisen while such leaders have been in power. In good times, the administration is quick enough to "point with pride" to all accomplishments. Why expect to escape blame for unsatisfactory conditions?

It is highly probable that any party would have encountered many of the troubles which President Hoover's administration and Governor Turner's administration have encountered. On the other hand, many of the difficulties which have arisen could not have been avoided by the exercise of the same judgment our officials would have exercised in their private businesses, if any.

While a great deal of fuss has been made by our state and national governments about cutting down expenses, the glaring leaks in the national and state treasuries have been ignored. There has been a feeling that efforts to cut governmental expenses were mere gestures and not sincere attempts at retrenchment.

As everyone knows, millions, if not billions, are expended annually by state and national governments in useless activities, activities which not only bleed the country but accomplish nothing of benefit for the whole people. We have cited illustrations of this so many times that we will not repeat them here.

Illustrative of the class of expenditures we mean is the enforcement or attempt to enforce the ridiculous T. B. test law in Iowa. Thousands of dollars of taxpayers' money could have been saved by merely ignoring the enforcement of this unpopular act.

We fancy we can hear the horrified ejaculations of test law fanatics that we are advocating non-enforcement of law. The same people, however, will spit on the sidewalk with impunity when they know, or ought to know, that spitting on the sidewalk is not only a flagrant violation of the law but a filthy and disease-spreading habit.

It would be very safe to say that more people have contracted illness from the results of spitting on the sidewalks than ever contracted tuberculosis from drinking cows' milk.

It is also highly probable that many who are outspoken in their demand that the unpopular T. B. test law be enforced, are not so enthusiastic about the enforcement of prohibition.

Let's be fair about this matter. The majority of farmers feel they are being bled by the tuberculosis test and this is one place where Governor Turner could endear himself to the hearts of thousands by saving the money wasted in the enforcement of the statute. But he won't!

We feel the progressives, whatever their motives, are right in predicting that something is likely to upset the apple cart in 1932. It is unfortunate that the self-styled progressives cannot see what is really behind it all and come out with definite leadership. These Washington office holders have only had a glimpse of what is going on beneath the surface.

Probably no man in public life has been in a position to feel the pulse of the common people so completely as Norman Baker. During the past seven or eight weeks, he has spoken before approximately a quarter of a million people. His meetings have extended into all of eastern Iowa and much of western Illinois. He knows whereof he speaks and he too predicts a political upheaval in 1932 which will astound the politicians.

In an interview made public Tuesday, Mr. Baker said, "Senator Brookhart and Senator Frazier realize it, even though they have not been as close to the situation as I. One proof of unrest is the fact that, wherever I go to explain the Baker Single Unit Farm Organization plan as the one positive way out for the farmers and laborers, large crowds are present. In Okawka, Illinois and Salem, Iowa, for instance, the largest crowds for years assembled. This spells dissatisfaction. They are anxious to find a way out and the majority have accepted the Baker plan."

As frequently explained in this paper, the Baker plan presents a simple, easily workable plan for relief, not only of the farm problem but of the business depression generally.

If the self-styled progressives at Washington are sincere in wanting to do something for the people, why do they not adopt this plan or show wherein the plan is unworkable?

That is what is bothering the politicians. They know that the high sounding schemes and plans they have urged on their farm constituents have not proven sound. They know that the people are beginning to question the bona fides of many self-appointed leaders of the people and that something of serious nature (to politicians) is very apt to happen in 1932.

The old order is changing. No longer can smooth tongued politicians visit their constituents once or twice a year, deliver flag-waving speeches and make the welkin ring—and then return to the ease and comfort of their cushy, high-salaried jobs.

The politicians are going to be called upon to produce results or they are very apt to awake on the morning after election day and discover that they have joined the ranks of the unemployed.

The people are seeking new types of leadership. This is evident from the election of such men as Governor Murray in Oklahoma and the bid for election made by Dr. John R. Brinkley in Kansas. It is further evidenced by the thousands who have urged Norman Baker to become a candidate for governor of the state of Iowa.

The people want leadership which is courageous and uncompromising. They want men in charge of affairs who have shown themselves competent in their own affairs and who will give the same careful attention to public business which made them successful in their private enterprises.

They want such men as Murray, Brinkley and Norman Baker and when the people want something they usually get it.

Our Platform for the People Is:

1. Less taxation.
2. Fewer State Commissions.
3. Universal school books.
4. Lower freight rates.
5. Return of river transportation.
6. A cleanup of some state institutions.
7. More efficiency in public offices.

The Evening Story

By EMILY WARFIELD SMITH

On a hot summer's morning Rose Cantwell, stenographer for The Mid-West Condensing company, was returning from the bank, when, reaching a very busy corner, a traffic block occurred that held up pedestrians. Just in front of her was an elderly woman, who, observing a man leaning against a light post, had in hand opened her purse and extracting there from a dime, dropped it into the hat.

Rose was about to follow this benevolent example, when happening to obtain a better view of the man whom she supposed blind, was surprised to discover that he was young, handsome and with apparently excellent eyesight!

So instead of offering money, she addressed him thus: "If you are in need of work I may be able to assist you." At the sound of Rose's voice the young man, who was gazing quizzically after the charitable old lady, turned and scrutinized her a moment without speaking, then exclaimed, "Why, er I am looking for a job."

"I'm on the way to my plant," Rose replied. "If you care to come along a minute I can tell you something about it."

Arriving at the plant, Rose escorted the stranger to Mr. Butters and after explaining that he was seeking work, left them. Half an hour later the young man came up to the office and announced, "I'm to start in the shipping-room tomorrow at eighteen a week."

"That's fine!" cried Rose. "I want to thank you, Miss Cantwell," Rose Cantwell. "I don't know what I'd done if it hadn't been for you Miss Cantwell."

"Kind-hearted little Rose fairly beamed. 'I'm so glad I could be of assistance,' she said, 'and now I'll put you on the pay-roll. Your name is—?'"

"Jack Ha-Hap-Haphazard!" "Rather an odd cognomen," she remarked, wondering why he stammered over it. "By cognomen I mean your surname."

"Yes, I like to learn." "That's the proper spirit!" exclaimed Rose, and I haven't a doubt that you'll soon advance, Jack."

"Yes, I hope so. Most folks call me 'Happy,' Miss Cantwell. It's a nickname the boys at school gave me."

"Good! I shall call you Happy too! It sounds so cheerful!" exclaimed Rose, "I'll see you tomorrow morning then?"

"Yes." When the six feet of robust young manhood had departed it occurred to Rose that possibly she might have been somewhat more reticent than circumstances warranted. However, she had helped a lame duck back in the "swim," and nothing else really mattered.

One afternoon a few weeks later, Miss Robbins, principal of a domestic science school, called Rose on the phone to make an engagement to bring the junior class over to the Mid-West company's plant in order to demonstrate to them just what an up-to-date conserving institution should be like. Four o'clock was the hour decided upon.

When Miss Robbins arrived at the head of a group of lovely young womanhood, she presented them as a whole, "the junior class Miss Cantwell." Rose graciously acknowledged the introduction and then stated her guests on their tour of inspection, little dreaming what awaited just around the corner.

Part of the company's equipment was a plant in which tea, bread, butter and some of their famous jellies and jams were served to visitors, and thither when the tour was finished, Rose led the way.

While they were gathered around the table, a substantial young lady whom her companions addressed as "Vi," plumped herself a bit too vigorously into a chair with a weak leg. Off flew the leg and Miss Vi was precipitated unceremoniously onto the floor!

"Oh, are you hurt?" cried Rose in concern.

"Not a bit!" laughed Vi, springing to her feet.

Rose gave her own chair to Vi, then calling the maid, bade her go to the shipping-room and request Happy to bring an empty box.

"Happy?" repeated Vi, "is that his name?"

"Just a nickname," replied Rose, and was about to explain more fully, when the young man himself entered.

"You may bring—" she began. But Happy didn't wait to hear more; with a single glance at the young lady, he stopped short, dropped the box onto the floor, then turned and fled!

At the same moment, Vi with a wild shriek jumped up, dashed across the floor and disappeared into the corridor!

Presently she returned dragging by the arm an embarrassed young man. "Friends!" she cried, "the mystery's solved! Allow me to introduce my brother, Philip Hapgood, alias Happy! Harvard '28; author of the much discussed novel, 'The Under Privileged!' And she burst into peals of laughter!"

How Rose managed to get through the remainder of the junior class visit she never knew. When finally they had departed she sank into a chair repeating over and over again, "A Harvard graduate and I explained the meaning of cognomen to him! A famous author and I took him for a laboring man!" and burying her face in her hands, she moaned aloud.

It was thus that Happy found her. "Miss Cantwell! Rose!" he cried. "What's the matter?" "Oh she's worried. 'What must you think of me?'"

"I think you are the finest young woman I ever knew," he returned, earnestly. "The question is, do you think enough of me not only to make me happy, but the happiest man in the world?"

When Rose had dried her tears on Happy's shoulder, she remarked, "so you were begging to get color for a story?"

"I wasn't begging!" he laughed. "Feeling in need of exercise I'd been doing a little work at father's factory; hence the overalls. You remember it was a hot day, and while waiting at the corner I took off my hat to 'cool my fevered brow,' and along came that old lady and dropped in a dime. I was about to give it back to her when you spoke! You looked so charming that I positively couldn't resist your offer! I trust, Rose dear, that you'll forgive the deceit I've practiced since that day."

Evidently Rose's answer was satisfactory!

(Copyright 1931 By Associated Newspapers)

Pointed Paragraphs

Youth is theory, but old age is fact.

Two essentials to success are dollars and sense.

Mirthfulness and the blues are never chummy.

Some men make a specialty of posing as horrible examples.

Most people would fall short if measured by the golden rule.

Friends are almost as scarce as umbrellas when they are needed.

(Copyright 1931 By Associated Newspapers)

Just Kiddies

By T. W. Burgess

BILLY MINK'S MISTAKE

Peter Rabbit had been quite right about Billy Mink. Billy was hungry. He was especially hungry for a dinner of tender young birds.

He had eaten fish until he felt as if he would turn into a fish himself. He was tired of fish and wanted a change. I guess you know how he felt. No matter how fond of a thing may be there comes a time when our stomachs grow tired of it. This is true even of candy and ice cream when we have too much of them. And it was just that way with Billy Mink.

When he had started out that morning Billy had had no particular plan. He just trusted to luck to find something besides fish to eat.

He had stopped at the Smiling Pool to pass the time of day with Jerry Muskrat, and it was while he was there that he had noticed Rattles the Kingfisher flying down the Laughing Brook with a tiny fish in his bill. It wasn't long before he was back watching for another fish, and when he caught it he took it off down the Laughing Brook. This was enough for Billy Mink. He knew right away what it meant. It meant that somewhere down the Laughing Brook was a home with babies in it. The very thought made Billy's mouth water. He cut his visit with Jerry Muskrat short and started down the Laughing Brook.

Now, unlike Peter Rabbit, Billy knew just where to look for, and where to look for it. He knew all about the ways of Rattles the Kingfisher, and just what kind of a place he would choose for a home, and he didn't have a doubt of being able to find it. But he took no more care not to let Rattles the Kingfisher catch a glimpse of him. He knew that if Rattles once saw him going down the Laughing Brook he would mount guard over his home and Billy was of no more use to him than a dead fish.

So when he heard Rattles coming Billy hid until the way was clear once more.

You remember that Billy was hiding right near the sand bank where Rattles had made his home at the time Peter Rabbit, watching from the opposite shore, discovered it. All that Peter saw Billy saw too. He saw the little hole close up under the edge of the high sand bank where the grasses hung over and partly hid it. He saw Rattles go in and out of the hole, and he knew that the hole was his home. He saw Rattles come out with a tiny fish in his bill, and he knew that the fish was for his babies.

So Billy scrambled up the sand bank and in the hole. The instant he got his head inside he forgot everything but the feast he would have for his nose told him that way back at the end of a long hall was a nestful of young birds. If he had stopped to smell a little more carefully to smell a little more he might have told him. That was where he made a mistake—a very great mistake. If he had heeded something which he had quite forgotten in his greedy haste he would have remembered that he hadn't seen anything of Mrs. Rattles, and Mrs. Rattles carries quite as big and sharp a bill as does Rattles himself.

But Billy had forgotten all about this and in his greedy haste pushed on along that narrow hall where there wasn't room to turn around. It was a mistake, a very great mistake. Half way to the nest at the end of that long hall Billy found it out.

(Copyright 1931, By T. W. Burgess.)

Next Story: Peter Rabbit Sees Things Happen.

An average man would soon attain perfection if he followed the advice he hands out to his neighbors.

When it comes to making a swift touch the glad hand is very much in evidence.

Our idea of an impossible man is one who hasn't a bit of foolishness in his makeup.

People's Pulpit

PEOPLE'S PULPIT:

I have been reading every article in the Free Press and watching Mr. Baker's speaking dates—has the opportunity of hearing him at Mt. Pleasant, Ia.—and he is giving the farmers the only solution to solve their depression problems. If you farmers in Iowa had a governor like Louisiana has, he would have been after them to organize into one unit long before now.

There are a lot of your representatives and legislators who could have been doing something for you long before now. If you voters of Iowa will get together, make Mr. Baker your governor, get a good lieutenant governor and attorney general, who are for you who pay their salaries instead of just talking about what they intend to do, the state will get someplace.

Another thing, Oklahoma's governor told the tax payers they help to keep the hospitals and if they want a chiropractor they could, and treatments could be given in the hospitals, which is only fair.

Also, if the governor of Iowa would have fought for radio station K-TNT like governor Long did for KWKH, not only the farmers, but everyone else would have been enjoying the K-TNT programs for the past months. It is very similar for the few who did not want to hear the K-TNT programs, to just turn the dial a few points. It is a cinch we did not object to them if they wanted to listen to other stations, but is sure was very ungentlemanly for them to try and then to list the K-TNT as a bad station. It is sure a sin when the voters elect men to office to represent them and then be ignored after the elections.

I believe in free speech and free air. If the Republicans or the Democrats can't arrange it, we will have it with progressives.

If we had more governors like H. P. Long of Louisiana or A. A. Murray of Oklahoma, who tried to do what the people of their states wanted, the farmers in Iowa would not be fighting the T. B. law. They would have something better.

Also, if one unit is not the best for the farmers, why are practically all the states in the south except Texas, unanimously in favor of not planting cotton in 1932?

Get together, you farmers in Iowa. Be a leader, other states will follow. If the depression does not open your eyes, you will never have them opened. Yours truly, J. D. Johnston, 945 Elm Street, Chillicothe, Mo.

Good Health Club

"SYMPTOMS OF DISEASE"

Everywhere, for years and years, in all branches of the human body, we hear, and have heard, the misnomer "symptoms of disease." Coming right down to brass tacks disease itself is nothing but a symptom.

This attitude of mind toward sickness has led man far astray in his search for health. It has led him to convince himself that these symptoms, or these ailments, are the real trouble, and he has been compounding formulas to relieve and suppress these manifestations of the pain ridden body, little knowing that instead of removing the cause, he has, but treatment, added just that much more trouble for the body to overcome.

This attitude of mind toward sickness has led man far astray in his search for health. It has led him to convince himself that these symptoms, or these ailments, are the real trouble, and he has been compounding formulas to relieve and suppress these manifestations of the pain ridden body, little knowing that instead of removing the cause, he has, but treatment, added just that much more trouble for the body to overcome.

For ages now, man has been ever seeking for the solution of this problem of disease. He has been man for a long time and will no doubt be with us for a long time, since the greater part of man's work along these lines has been in the wrong direction.

Because the human body is such a marvelously constructed machine, it follows that there must be many intricacies which make the body a subject for many, mal-adjustments. The mal-adjustments which occur within the body have products along and varied bit of complaints, which in turn has brought about a most earnest search for the remedy with which these abnormal conditions may be righted. Does it not seem strange that with all the studious minds concentrated on the problem of disease, and all the hospital exploratory work, and all of the research work done by the finely equipped laboratories, that so little of real worth has been actually accomplished. Everywhere man is suffering day after day.

It is no wonder that there is confusion and a lack of confidence on the part of the public when a patient may go to twenty different doctors and ninety-nine times out of a hundred, a different disease or ailment will be found by each doctor, and a different prescription issued by each one. Why a patient would be dead by night if he had one half of the diseases that the twenty doctors found. If not by the diseases—then by the twenty different poisons, pills and compounds which had been prescribed. It is unjust and childish, to choose symptoms with mysterious and poisonous compounds, administered internally, out of sight, where the dangerous and often fatal reaction are harder to mitigate because they cannot be readily reached. Any poisonous substance once put into the body is not so easily removed as the plural verb "were distributed" is correct.

Take care of your body as nature intended you should and you will not be made a play ground where poisons play tag with each other, leaving ruin and destruction in their paths.

It is no wonder that there is confusion and a lack of confidence on the part of the public when a patient may go to twenty different doctors and ninety-nine times out of a hundred, a different disease or ailment will be found by each doctor, and a different prescription issued by each one. Why a patient would be dead by night if he had one half of the diseases that the twenty doctors found. If not by the diseases—then by the twenty different poisons, pills and compounds which had been prescribed. It is unjust and childish, to choose symptoms with mysterious and poisonous compounds, administered internally, out of sight, where the dangerous and often fatal reaction are harder to mitigate because they cannot be readily reached. Any poisonous substance once put into the body is not so easily removed as the plural verb "were distributed" is correct.

Take care of your body as nature intended you should and you will not be made a play ground where poisons play tag with each other, leaving ruin and destruction in their paths.

It is no wonder that there is confusion and a lack of confidence on the part of the public when a patient may go to twenty different doctors and ninety-nine times out of a hundred, a different disease or ailment will be found by each doctor, and a different prescription issued by each one. Why a patient would be dead by night if he had one half of the diseases that the twenty doctors found. If not by the diseases—then by the twenty different poisons, pills and compounds which had been prescribed. It is unjust and childish, to choose symptoms with mysterious and poisonous compounds, administered internally, out of sight, where the dangerous and often fatal reaction are harder to mitigate because they cannot be readily reached. Any poisonous substance once put into the body is not so easily removed as the plural verb "were distributed" is correct.

Take care of your body as nature intended you should and you will not be made a play ground where poisons play tag with each other, leaving ruin and destruction in their paths.

It is no wonder that there is confusion and a lack of confidence on the part of the public when a patient may go to twenty different doctors and ninety-nine times out of a hundred, a different disease or ailment will be found by each doctor, and a different prescription issued by each one. Why a patient would be dead by night if he had one half of the diseases that the twenty doctors found. If not by the diseases—then by the twenty different poisons, pills and compounds which had been prescribed. It is unjust and childish, to choose symptoms with mysterious and poisonous compounds, administered internally, out of sight, where the dangerous and often fatal reaction are harder to mitigate because they cannot be readily reached. Any poisonous substance once put into the body is not so easily removed as the plural verb "were distributed" is correct.

Take care of your body as nature intended you should and you will not be made a play ground where poisons play tag with each other, leaving ruin and destruction in their paths.

It is no wonder that there is confusion and a lack of confidence on the part of the public when a patient may go to twenty different doctors and ninety-nine times out of a hundred, a different disease or ailment will be found by each doctor, and a different prescription issued by each one. Why a patient would be dead by night if he had one half of the diseases that the twenty doctors found. If not by the diseases—then by the twenty different poisons, pills and compounds which had been prescribed. It is unjust and childish, to choose symptoms with mysterious and poisonous compounds, administered internally, out of sight, where the dangerous and often fatal reaction are harder to mitigate because they cannot be readily reached. Any poisonous substance once put into the body is not so easily removed as the plural verb "were distributed" is correct.

Take care of your body as nature intended you should and you will not be made a play ground where poisons play tag with each other, leaving ruin and destruction in their paths.

It is no wonder that there is confusion and a lack of confidence on the part of the public when a patient may go to twenty different doctors and ninety-nine times out of a hundred, a different disease or ailment will be found by each doctor, and a different prescription issued by each one. Why a patient would be dead by night if he had one half of the diseases that the twenty doctors found. If not by the diseases—then by the twenty different poisons, pills and compounds which had been prescribed. It is unjust and childish, to choose symptoms with mysterious and poisonous compounds, administered internally, out of sight, where the dangerous and often fatal reaction are harder to mitigate because they cannot be readily reached. Any poisonous substance once put into the body is not so easily removed as the plural verb "were distributed" is correct.

Give It A Thought

By Joseph A. Sadony

If your wife or husband has greater ability than you have to give, And marriage is to be a bargain, And you do not try to make up in some way for your discrepancy, It cannot be a fair bargain.

And one of the dealers is not only going to find himself cheated, But will seek another bargain before the first bargain has terminated in bankruptcy.

If you are convinced that you are doing right to accept environmental conditions, Why find fault if your hand is burned.

When placing it in the flame of your choice, Blame the choice, not the flame.

If you think yourself charitable, Be sure to wait until you are rich to prove it to yourself.

If you are singing in a human family, Be sure you are in the right tune.

If you insist that you are homely and unhappy, Why not settle among those homelier than you are.

And be the best-looking among them.

And become happy.

If you wish the world to follow you, Keep on walking alone without looking behind you.

And when you have reached your goal, A multitude will be at your back.

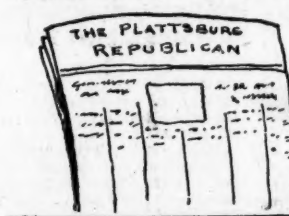

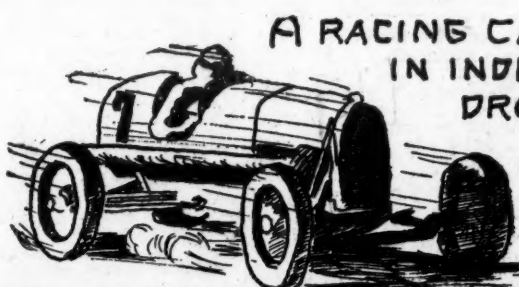

If you preach to a beggar, And expect to be heard, Show him a new way to get something for nothing again to hear you.

I was looking at a huge gas tank. I should say that it is so many feet high. If I were looking at a swimming pool, I should say that it is seven feet deep.

Just to illustrate that writers still make mistakes in the use of "who" and "whom," the following newspaper excerpt is presented: "Aboard was F. Michael Farmer, whom, the gossip says, will be her fourth husband." The Right Word is who as subject of the verb "will be."

(Copyright 1931 By Associated Newspapers)

Silly---BUT SO...

SE2-J.E.B. PARKEPSBURG W.VA.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

READY ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS DURING A DEPRESSION

Question No. 1: Well, how's business?

ANSWERS
A.—I don't know; I'm a stranger here myself.
B.—We can't take care of the orders. You're looking pretty bad, too.
C.—I don't know but if I hear anything I'll tell you.

(Remarks: Answer "A" is particularly recommended. It really expresses the general state of mind in business. It doesn't put things too optimistically, nor does it further pessimism. But answer "C" isn't half bad, either.—Ed.)

Question No. 2.—What do you think of the world situation generally?

ANSWERS
A.—Pretty good, especially in Alps in autumn.
B.—I used to know the answer to that one, but it's slipped my mind.
C.—Could you give me a little more time before I commit myself?

D.—I think it will be all right if we have an open winter.

(Remarks: Answer "A" will prove fairly fetching. It is a little vague and doesn't seem to complete the thought, but this makes it all the more valuable at a time like this when everybody wishes to avoid saying anything too definite. Ed.)

Question No. 3.—What do you think of the stock market?

ANSWERS
A.—Well, yes and no.
B.—I think it is all right, if your folks don't object.
C.—I'm pretty well, thanks; how are you?

D.—Only yesterday I was saying the very same thing to a man who was here on his first visit.

E.—Don't sell America short. (Remarks: "A," "B," "C" and "D" are all right, but "E" has lost its potency somewhat. Another good answer is "Well, it was a mistake for Wilkinson to think he could submerge and cut his way through the ice, anyhow.")

Question No. 4.—Does it seem to you that Hoover can win again?

ANSWERS
A.—I wouldn't know; I go to bed too early.
B.—Personally I've been away all summer, but if I hear anything I'll phone you.
C.—I remember reading something about it, but the details escape me.

D.—Huh? (Remarks:—We think the last answer is swell. Ed.)

CARLS DEFEAT PHILLIES AGAIN TO CLINCH PENNANT

Musky Hi Ready For Opener Friday Night

Fans All Steamed Up Over Battle With Tipton Here

All Little Six conference football teams will swing into action this week-end and their home fields. None of the contests will be conference games. The Little Six Musky open the season Friday night at the Jefferson field against the Tipton team.

Other games Friday night will find Iowa City, fresh from a win over Lone Tree, mixing with the strong Fairfield machine, Oklahoma meeting the Washington Demons and the Burlington Greyhounds battling the Galena, Ill., team. On Saturday afternoon the Davenport eleven will travel to Ottumwa to meet the Bulldogs and Winfield will go to Mt. Pleasant to play the Panthers.

Local football enthusiasts are all steamed up in anticipation of the Little Musky-Tipton high school football game to be staged under the floodlights at Jefferson field Friday night in the opening game for both teams. A large crowd is expected to be on hand to help send the locals off to a good start.

Coach Bob Kinnin has worked hard for three weeks preparing his athletes for the contest and reports that he will do everything possible to turn in a decisive victory over the Tipton aggregation. Just how strong the visiting eleven is this year is unknown but from the records of past seasons it can be taken for granted that a capable squad will take the field in an effort to show the Muskies a good battle.

Starting Lineup Uncertain
The Little Muskies' starting lineup is uncertain, Coach Kinnin announced today. There are so many prospects showing up good in the practice sessions that it would be hard to even pick one of the starting players.

From all indications during the practice sessions Coach Kinnin will send one of the strongest teams to the field that ever donned uniforms here in the past several years. A heavy, hard driving forward wall and a fast and classy backfield will be seen in action.

Kinnin has been handicapped somewhat by injuries among them being Gene Minder, a last year regular who is suffering with an injured knee, Leo Nugent, who received a bad leg early in the practice sessions two weeks ago but who is reported as being in fairly good shape again, Melvin Horst, with a bad side and leg, Capt. Ray Utley, with a weak knee, and Tom McGuire with a strained ankle.

Prospects Clicking Good
Coach Kinnin has been putting his proteges through kickoff practice with Assistant Coach Howard McIlraith's B team the past few nights and all his prospects have been clicking in clock-like fashion.

The starting lineup will probably include the majority of last year's veterans with a few newcomers found in the vacancies left by graduates. Among the veterans of last year's team who are back in tugs this season are Capt. Ray Utley, shifted from tackle to guard, Clifford Worst, shifted from end to guard, Earl Lutz, Earl Lee, Mel Horst, moved to center from guard, Leo Nugent and Cornelius Guessregen, halfback.

John Barko has been looming up good in the past few days and may get the call at one of the ends

(Continued on Page Twelve)

TOUCHDOWN SECRETS
N. D. Used Tricky Pass on So. Calif.

By SOL METZGER
Here is one of the forward pass plays with which Notre Dame broke down the defense of Southern California last year. The Rams are to use it this fall. Its success was due to the fast work of ends (5 and 7) in breaking down the field and then sweeping toward the side-lines to draw out of position the defensive backs playing 10 yards behind the line. Back (1) started with them, but broke to his right in order to carry out the feint of his right end. Then he suddenly turned to his left, at a point 6 or 8 yards beyond the scrimmage line, where he caught a pass from back (4).

SHARKEY CLAIMS HE WILL FINISH CARNERA OR QUIT

Garrulous Gob Rates Primo Easier Than Mickey Walker

By LES CONKLIN (INS Sports Writer)

NEW YORK—"How do you figure you can whip Primo Carnera, weighing over 200 pounds, when you couldn't whip Mickey Walker, who weighed ninety pounds less?" This question, put to Jack Sharkey this morning, failed to jar the Boston tar and he began a day's training here for his fifteen-round bout with the Italian man-mountain at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, on Oct. 1.

"I'll finish Carnera just like I polished off Godfrey, Willis, and other big fellows," he predicted. "Smaller or lighter men like Walker, Risko, Henney and Delaney are the ones who have given me the most trouble."

"When you meet a shorter man you've got to fight his kind of a fight. You've got to hit down at him and he hits you first. Can't Miss Carnera."

"Against Carnera it will be different. He's so big that I can't help but hit him somewhere, and I think I can put him on the floor. With a target like that, my timing and judgment of distance will be sharper than it was against Walker. We'll see how good Primo is."

"Was your failure to outpoint Walker decisively due to your lay-off of thirteen months?" I asked. "In part, yes," replied Jack. "I don't want to alibi, but the real reason I looked bad against Mickey was that I smashed a finger in the first round."

"I wanted to end it quick and put everything I had into my first punch, a left hook. The blow didn't land squarely and one of my fingers was driven clean back against my wrist. The finger isn't swollen now but it bothers me a bit."

Will Win or Quit
Sharkey, in one of his old-time talkative belligerent moods, was fully confident of toppling the ambling Alp, but declared he will quit the game if he loses.

"If I make another disappointing showing I won't dare show my face again," said the sailor earnestly. "I've had many chances. If I flop this time, which I won't, I'll hang up the gloves for good."

Jack has no hope of getting another match with Max Schmeling, even if he beats Carnera. "I know Max will never give me another chance," he said with conviction.

Sharkey Does Not Take Dempsey's "comeback campaign" seriously, and even commented caustically on the old champion's recent efforts.

Calls Dempsey Racketeer
"I'd like to fight Dempsey again but I don't think he'd take on a tough man. I think this exhibition tour of his is just another racket, like his refereeing, to bring in easy coin. Probably he'll be making special for a living next. I'll be tottering around with a long beard before he'll fight me again."

Sharkey did some road work in the park at dawn this morning. After boxing in a gymnasium here this afternoon, he will go to Pompton Lakes, N. J., to complete intensive training for the Carnera bout.

COACH WARNER RECOVERING
PALO ALTO, Cal., (INS)—Glenn Warner, Stanford football coach, was reported to be well on the road to recovery today after an illness which sent him to bed. It was reported that he might be able to direct his players from the field today.

CHARLEY PADDOCK FATHER
PASADENA, Cal., (INS)—Charley Paddock, famous sprinter, today was the father of a son. Physicians reported the boy and the mother were "doing nicely."

STANDINGS
AMERICAN LEAGUE
W. L. Pct.
Philadelphia 100 43 .699
Washington 86 56 .606
New York 84 57 .596
Cleveland 72 69 .511
St. Louis 69 84 .413
Detroit 57 86 .399
Boston 55 86 .390
Chicago 55 87 .387

Yesterday's Results
Boston, 2; Chicago, 1.
Philadelphia, 7; Cleveland, 5.
Washington, 6; St. Louis, 2.
Detroit-New York, not scheduled.
Games Today
Chicago at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at New York.
Detroit at Washington.
Cleveland at Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
W. L. Pct.
St. Louis 49 46 .662
New York 41 57 .519
Chicago 33 68 .534
Brooklyn 25 70 .517
Pittsburgh 21 73 .488
Boston 11 83 .424
Philadelphia 60 86 .411
Cincinnati 55 90 .379

Yesterday's Results
Chicago, 6-5; Boston, 5-5.
Cincinnati, 7-4; New York, 3-3.
Brooklyn, 11; Pittsburgh, 6.
St. Louis, 6; Philadelphia, 3.
Games Today
Brooklyn at Chicago.
New York at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Cincinnati.
Boston at Pittsburgh (2).

ATLAS SPECIAL WINS, 25 TO 4

Local Team Wallops Buffalo Prairie In Night Game

BUFFALO PRAIRIE, Ill., (Special)—Pounding out a total of 20 base hits, five of them home runs, the Atlas Special kilted team of Muscatine, Ia., had an easy time downing the local Buffalo Prairie players under the floodlights here Wednesday night, 25 to 4.

Rieke of the winners hit three home runs to lead the attack although Swank, Atlas third sacker, collected four safe blows in five trips to the plate. Other Atlas home runs were hit by Young and State.

Every member of the winning team connected for a hit except Philpot. The Brewers made six errors, four of them by Toynce on second base while the Buffalo Prairie team made ten. The game was a seven inning affair.

The victory gives the Atlas team a total of 21 wins for the season against five defeats. Sunday the Brewers will travel to Ardon to play in the kilted tournament there. Box score:

Atlas Special (25)
AB R H PO A E
Toynce, 2b 5 4 3 5 2 4
Young, cf 2 2 2 0 0 0
Philpot, c 4 2 0 5 1 0
Rieke, p 6 3 3 0 3 0
Chelf, 1b 6 1 1 0 0 0
Honts, ss 6 1 1 1 1 1
State, lf 4 5 2 0 0 0
Swank, 3f 5 3 4 0 1 1
Mohnsen, rf 5 2 2 0 0 0
Totals 47 25 20 21 8 6

Buffalo Prairie (4)
AB R H PO A E
H. Ziegler, ss 4 1 1 0 0 3
Thomas, p 2 0 0 1 0 0
Parry, p 4 0 0 0 0 0
Moomey, c 4 0 3 5 1 1
Vetter, lf 2 1 1 0 0 0
Castor, 1b 3 0 2 0 0 0
R. Kimball, 2b 3 0 0 5 3 3
Kistler, rf 3 1 0 2 0 0
D. Kimball, 3b 3 1 1 5 3 0
G. Ziegler, cf 3 0 1 0 0 0
Totals 31 4 6 21 5 10

Atlas Special 25 122 313 2-25
Buffalo Prairie 4 000 100 3-4

"JOE JINKS"

DYNAMITE IS ON THE WAR PATH! HE HAS PUT IT UP TO JOE TO EITHER GET BUSY AND SIGN HIM TO BOX SOME GOOD MAN, OR ELSE STEP OUT OF THE PICTURE, AND LET SOME OTHER MANAGER MAKE A LIVING.

Wildcats Picked to Keep Big Ten Title

Whole Thing Resolves Itself Into Problem Of Bookkeeping

Editor's note: (This is the second of a series by Leo Fischer from the training camps of the Big Ten colleges. Follow him around the Big Ten for the rest of the season. "Inside" dope on the situation. Illinois will be next.)

By LEO FISCHER (INS Sports Writer)

EVANSTON, Ill.—How do you rate as a book-keeper? If you're an expert along these lines, perhaps you are better qualified to figure Northwestern's chances for repeating as Big Ten champion than just a mere football writer.

Analyzing the situation at Evanston, where Coach Dick Hanley is trying to weld together another powerful machine, the entire matter resolves itself into a problem of book-keeping—trying to balance debits and credits.

Here are the entries on the Wildcat ledger:
Debits
Hank Bruder, one of the best defensive backs in the Big Ten.
Lee Hanley, all-conference quarterback.
Frank Baker, All-American end.
Wade Woodworth, All-American guard.
Bob Clark, second best center in the Big Ten.
Bob Gonyea, leading conference tackle.
Larry Oliphant, regular right end.
Seven other valuable members of the title squad.

Credits
"Reb" Russell, All-American fullback.
"Pug" Rentner, best forward passer in the Big Ten.
Dal Marvill and Jack Riley, all-conference tackles.
Jimmy Evans, brilliant guard.
Assorted substitutes and reserves.
Unusually good sophomore talent.

There are the statistics. Now figure the answer. If Coach Hanley can make his credits equal the debits, with a bit left over, then they might as well start during the

(Continued on Page Twelve)

MANY OUT FOR CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Leonard Hunn Working Prospects Hard for Meets

Thirty-four Muscatine high school cross country prospects have been reporting to Coach Leonard Hunn at the Jefferson field cinderpaths the past week and are rounding into shape nicely for the first meet with University High of Iowa City there Oct. 9.

Coach Hunn announced Wednesday that he may take his athletes to Weed park for practice tonight. The squad is the largest that has ever turned out for this sport in the history of the school.

Many of the prospects reported are track veterans and have possibilities of developing into promising cross country runners. Following the meet with University High the Muskies will meet the Iowa City high school team there on Oct. 16, and on Oct. 24, the second annual high school invitational cross country meet will be staged at Weed park. The Little Muskies will close the season at Iowa City in the state meet on Oct. 31.

Four new candidates reported for practice Wednesday night with all of them being new at the game. The four new ones are Grant Brown, Richard Higginson, Albert Martin and Robert Tiecke.

STATE MEET OCT. 31
IOWA CITY, Ia., (INS)—Runners from high schools over the state will congregate at the University of Iowa Oct. 31, in quest of individual and team honors in the second annual state prep cross country run, it was announced here today by Coach George T. Bresnahan.

Muscatine high, winner last year, again is expected to send a strong outfit. The team is tutored by Leonard E. Hunn, former university runner who tied for the Big Ten championship one year.

Invitations for the meet will come from the Iowa high school athletic association.

Brown helmets are no longer being manufactured. The 1931 football rules bar that color because it is confused with the ball.

Additional Sports on Page 12

Redbirds Will Meet A's In World Series

U. S. WARDENS TO ENFORCE LAW ON SHOOTING DUCKS

Exceeding Bag Limit And Hunting Out of Season Banned

By Washington News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Duck hunters in the Davenport, Dubuque, Clinton, and Muscatine district, who go hunting this fall a few days before the season opens, and who just can't stop shooting when they have to explain matters to a federal judge, Col. H. P. Sheldon, United States game conservation officer, said here yesterday.

The Eastern Iowa district, because it is a concentration point for ducks on their southward flight from Canada, has been selected as one of the localities where federal game officers will center their efforts to enforce the federal migratory bird laws.

The drive against law violators, Col. Sheldon predicts, will be the most intensive ever waged by the biological survey, and is necessitated by the combined toll of the frowth, civilization spoiling breeding grounds, and shooting, resulting in a threat of extinction for ducks.

Federal game wardens will concern themselves for the greater part with apprehending hunters shooting out of season and exceeding the bag limit, working along the Mississippi river and adjoining fields where ducks are feeding. Hunters caught by federal wardens will be subjected to prosecution in the federal courts, which may either give a jail sentence, a fine, or both to offenders.

President Hoover has shortened the open season on ducks in Iowa to one month, from Oct. 20 to Nov. 19. The bag limit is fifteen ducks in one day.

The federal duck hunting regulations are made by the department of agriculture under a treaty with Canada protecting migratory water fowl.

Organized Volley Ball Leagues Will Start at 'Y' Soon

Any organized volleyball team interested in entering on the Y. M. C. A. leagues which will be organized within the next two weeks, are requested to leave the name of team at the "Y" with A. J. Lindley, physical director, who is in charge of the volleyball leagues.

Interest in this game has picked up at the local Y. M. C. A. during the past few seasons and Mr. Lindley believes that many teams will sign up for play this fall.

Farmers Answer the Call of the BATTLE CRY OF FREEDOM

Big Mass Meeting Friday September 18th

A Most Important Meeting Will Be Held at 8 P. M. Open Discussions Regarding the T. B. Question Will Be Made by Prominent Speakers.

COME HEAR JAKE LENKER

The Fighting Dutchman of Cedar County, Iowa, Explain the T. B. Cattle Testing Question.

FARM RELIEF AND OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS Will Be the Topic

Come and Bring the Entire Family Committee

Athletics Chalk Up 100th Victory in Season's Play

By COPELAND C. BURG (INS Sports Writer)

NEW YORK—One of the dumbest and dullest pennant races in the history of the National league was dead as a mackerel today, only a dead mackerel would be more exciting.

The St. Louis Cardinals became pennant winners for the second straight season and the fourth time in six years yesterday as they humbled the wretched Phillies, 6 to 3. The Cards held the front seat in the long grind ever since late in April.

The Redbirds will meet the Philadelphia Athletics in the world series, starting October 1 at St. Louis. No matter who wins, it will then be proved whether the Cardinals were good, or whether the Cubs, Robins and Giants were just plain bad.

Giants Drop Two
The Giants, for instance, could have looked much worse than in dropping a double header to the sub-basement gentlemen from Cincinnati. Red Lucas was quit too much for the New Yorkers and won the opener, 7 to 3. The Giants got almost twice as many hits as the Reds in the nightcap but lost, 4 to 3, as Sukeforth singled in Hendrick with the run that counted most.

The Robins practically clinched their first division berth by ranging up in the lucky seventh to score six runs, flopping Pittsburgh 11 to 5. Clark was the winning pitcher. Earnshaw was better than Farrell and the Champion Athletics won again, defeating Cleveland 7 to 5. It was the A's 100th success.

Pat Malone weakened but finally staggered in with a 8 to 5 triumph for the Chicago Cubs over Boston. The Bruins also took the second game, 8 to 3, coming from behind with five runs in the eighth and then winning the ninth.

Webb of the Boston Sox potted doubles No. 62 and 63 to flip the Chicago White Sox 2 to 1, dropping

(Continued on Page Twelve)

BENNY LEONARD KAYOES 3 FOES

NEWARK, N. J., (INS)—Some 1,500 boxing fans today believed Benny Leonard has a chance to come back.

The former lightweight champion at 35 years of age knocked out three opponents in less than three minutes in exhibition bouts here last night. His victims were Eddie Murray, Connecticut; Teddy Hayes, Newark; and Manuel Maderia, Newark. All were minnows.

Leonard's weight was not announced. His Manager, Jack Kearns, claimed he weighed 150 pounds.

REMODEL REBUILD REPAIR

Don't get caught in the cold. See that your furnace or heating stoves are in perfect working condition, now, before the cold grips you and your home. It isn't any fun waiting around in a cold house until your furnace is repaired, but it is fun to find it working perfectly on the first cold day. We will gladly give you an estimate on your repair work free of charge.

AITKEN'S
SHEET METAL
PHONE 209-W
220 WALNUT ST.

Well, it kept the sun out during the summer, you say, but after all these years of keeping things out it most likely will prove unworthy this winter, for rain and snow have a way of showing up leaky roofs and Kleindolph has a way of fixing these roofs for years of future service, at only a small cost. Estimates gladly furnished upon request.

KLEINDOLPH
& Son Roofing Co.
110 Mulberry Ave. Ph. 191

HUSHED HEAT
In the LOWEST Priced Quality Oil Burner in America.

Here is genuine Oil-O-Matic heating for smaller homes, with one of the greatest advancements ever made in oil burner design, yet lower in price than any Oil-O-Matic in history!

The New Flame Projector makes possible a quietness without any sacrifice in heating efficiency—known as Hushed Heat! Low cost fuel oil is burned with no carbon or soot.

Terms low—pay by the month. See us for more information.

A.C. Springborn Plbg. & Htg. Co.
122 E. Third St. Phone 13

Special PAINT
Prices DURING September

PAINT
For Appearance
For Protection

Varnish
Suitable for inside or outside use. Water Spar Varnish of best grade. Spreads evenly—wears for years.

Wall Paint
Washable and plastic flat wall paint. A quick, easy, and economical way to redecorate. Specially priced.

House Paint
Guaranteed Quality. Choice of 32 beautiful colors. Ground in Pure Linseed Oil and ready to use. Take advantage of present low prices.

Hahn Paint and Varnish Company
Phone 404 426 E. Second St.

Gas Range Beauty

Superb Beauty... Outstanding Conveniences

Makes possible a new order of kitchen beauty and the elimination of the labor and drudgery of meal preparation.

COOK WITH GAS

Iowa Electric Co.
Phone 341 224 Iowa Ave.

Have your home gone over from attic to basement with lasting materials secured from the Schmidt Paint Store. Cleaning, calcimining, painting, paperhanging, varnishing, floor scraping, everything that will make the home look better can be more economically done, if you will call Schmidt's first. Phone 1026

Schmidt Paint Store
313 E. Second St.

NOW! For Colder Weather

Don't wait—See the Muscatine Used Car Market about Battery work, general repairing, greasing, lubricating, Tires and Tubes (Firestones and other makes)—Car washing and polishing.

See Our Used Cars

- |                             |                            |
|-----------------------------|----------------------------|
| 2—1929 Model A Ford Coaches | 1—1929 Whippet Coach       |
| 1—1929 Chevrolet Sedan      | 1—1928 Oldsmobile Sedan    |
| 1—1929 Chevrolet Coach      | 1—1928 Chevrolet Cabriolet |

Many more from $50 on up. Your car either all or part down payment. Balance easy terms.

Muscatine Used Car Market
Mulberry at Third Phone 963
"The Auto Service Corner"

B
A N
N
E
R
G
E
M

B
A N
N
E
R
G
E
M

What a Wonder Worker
BANNER GEM IS! ....

It whips at once into a quick torrent of real comfort and cheer. Pound for pound, it brings much more joy in the coldest weather. BE PREPARED, try a load and be convinced.

Fuel Service Co.
Phone 314

Drapes
Curtains Wardrobe

Dry Cleaned

Our dry cleaning system will put new sparkle into your home; add luster to your drapes, make your curtains immaculate; blankets soft and bright and so on through the house. Dry cleaning the Kochneff way is thorough, efficient, quick and reasonable.

Phone 319
Kochneff Cleaners
530 Mulberry Ave.

Is Dry Heat Ruining Your Complexion?

ASK YOUR MIRROR

Is your skin suddenly aging, losing its freshness and causing you to resort to "beauty treatments?" Such skin is susceptible to diseases—it is caused by overheated desert-dry air of the average furnace.

Holland Vaporaire Systems banish the menace of baked-dry stagnant air by giving forth heat that is properly circulated and humidified. Let us tell you about them.

Holland Furnace Co.,
HARRY R. OTHMER, Dist. Mgr.
219 West Second St. Phone 1370

Fixtures
of the Newer Modes

... lend to every room that little touch of modernity so necessary in this age. Installation is quick—no musing of your rooms. Prices are low.

South Side Electric Shop
LOUIS G. ELFERS, Prop.
Phone 2185

AUTO GLASS

Nationally Advertised Thoma Non-Shatter or Plain

At Nearly A Factory Price!
Windshield and Door Glass

» You endanger the safety of yourself and your loved ones when you drive around with a broken pane of glass. We have installed a new grinder and edger that enables us to give you nearly a factory price on all work. The job's done quickly, too. See us for auto glass.

Used Auto Parts
for Nearly All Make of Cars

Diamond Tires
Gems of the Tire
World. Low Prices

Auto Salvage & Radio Store
208 W. Second St. Phone 318
Open Evenings and Sunday Mornings

R
E
P
A
I
R

News and Views From Surrounding Communities

LOUISA COUNTY FOLKS TO HEAR IOWA GOVERNOR

Gov. Turner to Give An Address Next Saturday

MORNING SUN, Ia.—(Special)—Governor Dan Turner will address a mass meeting of the farmers, bankers, and business men of Louisa county, in the high school auditorium at Wapello, Saturday, September 19, for the purpose of planning an organization of these groups, in the county.

This meeting is the outcome of a meeting held in the farm bureau office, recently, at which there was an attendance of about 35 farmers, business men and bankers of the county.

The committee is asking that Governor Turner, explain the plan by which the farmers of Jasper county, brought about a more profitable price for their corn. An attempt will be made to form an organization by which the price of farm produce may be stabilized.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bucher, of Wapello, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Maggie VanHook of Elmore, Kansas, stived with relatives in town Tuesday.

The Thomas Ochiltree Junior club, met Saturday in their hall, with 30 members present. Advisor Mrs. Gladys Kern, and assistant Mrs. Bess Bice, were in charge. The president Geraldine Walsh presided at the regular business meeting.

Following the business session some time was taken up in drill work, after which they went to up-town park where a sack lunch was enjoyed. The next meeting will be held on the last Saturday afternoon of the month, and will be a work meeting at which time "Rag Dolls" and "Rag Toys" will be made to be sent to the children's hospital at Iowa City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews have received word of the birth of an eight and one-half pound son to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wheeler, of Pontiac, Mich., Saturday, September 12. The mother will be remembered as Frances Andrews.

Mrs. Harvey Kimble, Mrs. John Kilpatrick and Mrs. Anna Meyers went to Mediapolis, Tuesday, to visit Miss Harriet White, who is seriously ill.

A group of girls gave a farewell party for Lucetta Brown, Monday evening at the home of Dana Werts. Games were enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostess. Miss Brown left Tuesday for Monmouth college.

The semi-monthly meeting and luncheon of the local Community club will be held Friday evening at Henry's cafe. W. E. Thompson and S. H. Curran, are the committee in charge.

The first football game of the season will be held on the local gridiron Saturday, Sept. 19. The game will be with the West Liberty squad.

Mrs. Nora Smith and Mrs. Viola Hannah left Tuesday, Des Moines, to attend the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, being held there this week.

D. A. Hamilton and grandson, Arnold Hamilton, and Warden Owens, of Gary, Ind., who have been spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hamilton, and other relatives, left Tuesday for their home. Miss Verlee Hamilton of this place accompanied them home for a visit.

The annual tour of the Louisa county farmers to the Iowa State college at Ames will be held September 16-17.

GRANDVIEW

Rev. William B. Lindberg will give a lecture and stereoscopic view of Palestine and the Jew. In the Light of Prophecy.

Bible prophecies have been fulfilled and are being fulfilled today. See what is taking place now.

Learn what the Jews are doing. Observe customs in Bible lands.

Mr. Lindberg and his wife had several years of service in the Holy Land.

The lecture will be given at the Community church Wednesday and Friday night, Sept. 16-18 at 7:45.

Mr. Elmer Goehaenour is planning on starting his canning factory sometime soon.

James Butler and Miss Lucille Biek will leave this week for Iowa City where they will go to school.

Lawrence Thompson and Faith McDill left for Mt. Vernon last week where they will attend Cornell college.

Delno Stineman and Miss Marie Creswell will attend Parson college at Fairfield this year.

Miss Genevieve McGrew was home with her parents for the week end.

Miss Ruth Kemp spent the week end with her parents.

Deloise Graham who is employed in Okaloosa spent the week-end here with her father.

Dean Graham who is employed at Otto's Grocery in Muscatine was home for Sunday.

Paye Jackson has sold his property to Milo Weile. Mr. Jackson will move to the Swiss property.

Mr. Johnson will move to the Beckey property and Mr. Weile will vacate.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jackson, son Harlan, Miss Bernice and Frank O'Dell, were Sunday visitors at Mrs. Sam McGill.

Mrs. Lolo Wilson and friends were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Jesse Jarvis. The relatives of the Geo. Bick family will meet with the Zimmerman family of Cedar Rapids next Sunday, Sept. 20 for their annual reunion at Weed Park in Muscatine.

MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Ia.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Birdie Shugars and daughter Anna of Wilton visited Sunday at the home of Mrs. Nellie Dickey.

Miss Irene Tharpe and Lowell Rockefeller attended the Neal Heavely show in West Liberty Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pomplin of Davenport were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kline.

Mr. and Mrs. Ad Dickey and son, Irvin, of Tipton, were entertained Sunday, at the home of Mrs. Belle Crist.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Dickey, Harriet Berry and Harry Marckie attended the ball game in Rock Island, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Comstock and daughter, Valma, visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ford and family living north of Wilton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jonek of Tipton visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lincoln and family.

A number of women and girls from this community are working at the Heinz canning factory in Muscatine, peeling tomatoes.

George Marolf of Wilton spent Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Marolf.

Arthur Tharp visited Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Griffith in Silvis and also attended the ball games in the tri-city.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Taylor and son Arthur and Miss Irene Walker of Rock Island visited Sunday afternoon at the home of the former's friend, Matthew Comstock and family.

Mrs. Fred Edson, Margaret Lear, Mrs. Nellie Dickey, Mrs. Ada Lincoln, and daughters, Pearl and Phloa gathered Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Belle Crist, in honor of her birthday. The honoree received many nice gifts. The evening was spent informally with ice cream and cake being served later in the evening.

CLARENCE

CLARENCE, Ia.—(Special)—At their regular meeting, Tuesday evening, the A. L. A. of Clarence, elected officers for the year. For president, Mrs. Margaret Davis; vice-president, Mrs. Bertha Egger; second vice-president, Jessie Bauman; secretary, re-elected, Mrs. Merle Lierck; treasurer, Mrs. Lillian Frues; historian, re-elected, Mrs. Ella Mae Kastler; chaplain, Mrs. Eleanor Sawyer; sergeant, Hertha Koth.

Mrs. Vern Freeman and sister, Mrs. Verne Robinson, of Davenport, entertained Tuesday afternoon in the former's home, at auction bridge. Six tables were played. High honors went to Mrs. Grover Penningroth, second honor to Mrs. Fred Hoffman. Two consolation prizes were also awarded by the hostess to Mrs. Walter Kemman and Mrs. Edwin Schuler. Novel sachet table cards were used for scoring. A two course luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Falling to land any outstanding youngsters from the minors Connie Mack put in a bid for Rubber Arm Connolly of Toledo. Connolly is this year's leading pitcher in the American Association.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

WILTON JUNCTION

WILTON JUNCTION, Ia.—(Special)—Julia Ann, the only daughter of Thomas and Ursula Eber, pioneer residents of Rochester township, was born Dec. 8, 1888 and died Sept. 10, 1931, aged 42 years, 9 months, and two days, following a decline in health extending over a number of years and terminating with a serious illness lasting about two weeks. At the age of 22 she was united in marriage, Sept. 6, 1881, to Charles A. Zeisel of Moscow, Ia., at which place they made their home until the year 1907 when they took up residence in Rochester township, near her childhood home, where she continued to reside up to the time of her death.

To this union was born two children, a daughter, Mrs. Blanche Carnes of Waterloo, Ia., and a son Charles, at home, both of whom remain to mourn her loss. She is also survived by a granddaughter, Grace Carnes of Waterloo and two brothers, Linus C. Hain of Rochester township and Charles S. Hain of Iowa City, besides numerous other relatives and a multitude of friends.

Besides her husband who passed away April 24, 1930, she was preceded in death by her parents and two brothers.

At an early age she became affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church which membership she retained during her lifetime, taking part in all church activities while her health permitted. After moving to this vicinity she has been in attendance at the Trinity Reformed church located near her home.

Possessing to a marked degree the ability to make and retain friendship, she will be deeply felt by all with whom she came in contact throughout her lifetime.

Funeral services, which were largely attended, were held at Trinity church in charge of the Rev. W. B. Moore, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. John Whitmer, Mrs. George P. Marolf and Mrs. Charles Adams had charge of the floral offerings. A quartet composed of A. T. Nelson, David Smith, H. F. Lauser and A. D. Winsell sang. The pallbearers, nephews of the decedent were, Elmer Hain, Arthur Hain, Elwood Hain, Harrison Hain, Filmer Hain and Ervin Hain.

Miss Jane Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Nelson of this city, has been appointed county home demonstration agent for the Benton and Tama county Farm Bureau. Miss Nelson has held the position of C. H. D. agent for Clayton county, with headquarters at Spencer, Ia., for some time. She will take over the new position immediately.

Miss Nelson is a graduate of the local high school and of Iowa State college, Ames and has taught home economics in the Jessup high school.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

HAY FEVER CAUSES
PITTSBURGH—(INS)—There are seventy-one reasons why one is liable to catch hay-fever, the Pittsburgh Free Dispensary reports. Among the various causes are rose dandruff and eating asparagus as well as the more familiar ones of goldenrod and ragweed. Contact with domestic animals or feathers was given as another cause, while an excess of protein was mentioned as likely to cause the sniffing disease.

CONTRACTS LET FOR PROJECTS

Louisa County Will Gravel Highway In Near Future

WAPELLO, Ia.—(Special)—Bids were opened and contracts let by the board of supervisors Wednesday for the following projects: P. P. Hinote, Oakville was awarded the contract in the amount of $15,264.00 for graveling county trunk road west of the five mile lane to the Henry county line. Hinote also received the contract in the amount of $5,264.00 for graveling road one mile south and five miles north of Morning Sun. Another contract in the amount of $1,050.00 to complete gravel surfacing on pumping plant road to Port Louisa also went to Hinote.

Leo Plumb, Wapello, received the contract for class. A gravel complete on roads for graveling the local road north from Wyman to Cotter, six miles and east to Grandview cemetery, one mile.

Ray Patterson, Wapello, was awarded the contract in the amount of $1,332.50 for graveling county road south from state highway No. 78 one and a half miles also to gravel from the Cairo cemetery, north, one mile through Cairo, using creek gravel.

Houstan Construction Company, Olin, Ia., received the contract in the amount of $3,545.45 for grading county road east from Wyman 1 1/2 miles and south one mile.

MELPINE

MELPINE, Ia.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Parvin and family of Melrose, were Sunday visitors at the C. A. Raub home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Kelley and daughter Doris, visited at the Theodore Harker home at Milan, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grimm and daughter, Marvel, were dinner guests at the Roy Egge home, Sunday.

Rev. Hunt, a former pastor of the Sweetland church, but now residing in New Jersey, was a visitor at the C. A. Raub home Saturday evening.

Roy Egge was a business visitor in this vicinity Tuesday.

Otto Steffen and son, Howard, were recent visitors at Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peterson and family were Sunday evening visitors at the Louis Dauer home at Blue Grass.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Paul and sons, Leo and Laurence and daughter, Doris, visited at the S. C. Berger home in Muscatine, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. August Uncle and Mrs. Mary Fuller spent Monday at Alfred Petersen home.

Cecil Berry of Muscatine is spending some time at the G. R. Cole home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Benschoff of Pleasant Prairie visited relatives in this vicinity Sunday evening.

Irene Fick spent Tuesday night at the home of her friend, Norma Hetzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ackley of Davenport spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sells.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gumm and daughter Lila, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Grimm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beath, at New Era.

GANGSTER KING TOOK HIS ORDERS OFF POLITICIAN

Letter of Heitler Is Great Shock to Gang Circles

(Continued from Page One)

been able to identify the burned body as Heitler's.

As a result of the posthumous paper's revelations respecting the connection of high officials with underworld activity, the state attorney's office announced it would launch a thorough investigation of facts set forth.

The document declares that the assassination of Lingle was perpetrated upon orders of Scarface Al.

It avers that the author's own death had been decreed and that Capone and seven other men would be responsible for his murder.

It charges that Jack Zuta's death at the hands of assassins in Wisconsin was carried out because Skidmore refused to have any dealings with Zuta.

Tells of Police Bribery

The letter also recites numerous instances of police bribery and the exercise of corrupt influence in order to remove or transfer officials who proved inhospitable to the syndicate's activities.

One of the most amazing accusations penned by Heitler, relates to the connection of Capone's organization with the sensational slaying of Lingle last summer.

The appeal of Leo V. Brothers, St. Louis gunman, under a 14-year prison sentence for the reporter's murder will be heard by the state supreme court in October.

Lingle, according to Heitler's letter, was "put on the spot" because he had "double-crossed" Capone.

Contents of Letter

Jack Zuta, the letter declares, had paid $2,500 to the reporter to use his influence in removing a certain police official.

Heitler's letter said: "So Zuta took $2,500 off the top of the pile and called up Jake Lingle. To Lingle, he said: 'I have $2,500 for you if you will remove — for me —'

"Lingle replied that he would remove — in a couple of weeks. But by that time Capone had come home from jail (in Philadelphia)."

"Jack called me up and I went over to see him. He said, 'Capone told me he had anything to do with Lingle's death. Lingle is a double-crosser. He said Lingle had double-crossed Capone when he (Lingle) wanted to get the dog tracks going for the stadium,' in opposition to Capone's dog track."

According to the letter, Zuta told Heitler that Capone had made up his mind to get the $2,500 back from Lingle and had threatened that the reporter "is going to get his."

Then, the letter says, Lingle was killed. And shortly afterward the police official he had promised to remove was transferred.

There was a reorganization of Capone's forces involving the elimination of both Zuta and "Roxey."

Told Not To Talk

"I was told not to talk to Zuta and lay off all his men," the letter declares. Shortly afterward Zuta was assassinated. The execution was decreed, according to Heitler's letter, when Skidmore refused to exert his influence with a certain official, unless Zuta were removed.

Heitler knew he had been marked for death when he wrote the letter, the document revealed. Because Skidmore also was in connection with Heitler the latter was ordered to give up his profit-making enterprise.

Heitler was told if he "insisted on having anything, you know what will become of you."

Before naming his possible slayers, Heitler cryptically stated: "That's the end."

Rev. Hawley Gives Main York College Convocation Talk

The Rev. Ira Hawley, pastor of the United Brethren church here, was the main speaker at the convocation program of York college, York, Neb., which was held Tuesday morning. Special significance was attached to this occasion since it marks York college's forty-first year in the field of education and a new undertaking in United Brethren education, the merging of Kansas City university with York college.

The Rev. Mr. Hawley's topic was "The Star and the Way." During the course of his address he stressed the importance of enthusiasm, concentration, the necessity of a Christ-like life and the importance of service.

At the same program Dean Charles Bisset announced the honor students of the preceding year and President J. R. Overhiller gave a short address of welcome to new students.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES

OTTAWA, Can. — (INS) — The growing importance of Canada as a manufacturing country is indicated in the official report on the manufacture of Canada for the calendar year 1929 which has just been issued by the Canadian Government. Statistics show that in 1929 there were 23,597 manufacturing establishments in the Dominion, an increase of 218 over 1928, with a total capital investment of $5,083,014,784, an advance over the previous year of $302,718,705 or 6.33 per cent. The 23,597 establishments employed 694,434 persons, with a payroll of the year amounting to $13,649,946 and produced goods to the total value of $4,083,987,279, an increase over 1928 of $294,136,915 or 7.60 per cent.

Husband of 'Ma' Kennedy Seeks Legal Separation

(Ama Photo)

While the marital bark of her famous daughter encountered turbulent seas almost at the outset, that of "Ma" Kennedy, temporarily stranded high and dry on the sandbar of the annulment proceedings, gives promise of sailing ultimately into calmer seas.

Guy Edward Hudson, (what a man Hudson) from whom she was freed on discovery that he had neglected to divorce one or two former mates, has filed suit for his legal freedom from Mrs. Margaret Newton Hudson. "Ma" accompanied him to the office of his attorney for filing of the suit, which charges cruelty. Mrs. Newton Hudson has a divorce suit pending in Los Angeles.

Pictured above are: Left to right: Mrs. L. Margaret Newton Hudson, who married "Ma" Kennedy, and Guy Edward Hudson, (what a man Hudson).

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROUPS DECIDE WHERE TO MEET

County Organizations Make Arrangements For Sessions

Leaders, places and time of the six district Sunday school conferences to be held in Muscatine county Sunday in preparation for the older boys and girls conference, which will be held Sept. 25 at Wilton, were announced today by P. G. McCullough, president of the Muscatine county council of religious education. The meetings are scheduled as follows:

Wilton—Moscow district, Presbyterian church at Wilton at 2:30 p. m. with Newton Lang, district president, presiding, assisted by Mrs. Harry Hahn, secretary and treasurer of the Muscatine county Sunday school council.

Cranston district, Oak Grove Christian church at 7:30 p. m. with Rudolph Geertz, district president, presiding, assisted by Rev. P. W. Merrifield, assistant director of young people's work in Muscatine county and P. G. McCullough, president of the Muscatine council.

Sweetland—New Era—Pleasant Prairie district, Sweetland Methodist Episcopal church at 2:30 p. m. with Frank Sauer, district president, presiding, assisted by the Rev. Ira Hawley.

West Liberty—Atalissa district, Methodist Episcopal church at West Liberty at 2:30 p. m. Dale Ellsworth, district president, presiding, assisted by Mr. McCullough.

Cone—Nichols district, reformed church of Conesville at 2:30 p. m. W. R. Schmidt, district president, presiding, assisted by M. C. Swan.

Spangler chapel — Bloomington Friends church at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Guerdon Mortimer, district president in charge, assisted by P. Smit, supply pastor at the Walnut Street Baptist church and Mrs. Reba Steilrecht, adult division superintendent of Muscatine county.

CIVIC BODIES

ACT ON RELIEF

Committee of 21 to Be Appointed on Unemployment

Definite steps toward the appointment of a permanent civic committee of 21 members to work out a program of relief for the unemployed during the coming winter, were taken at an enthusiastic meeting of various local civic bodies Wednesday night in the council chambers of the city hall.

Cooperation among the local organizations, as evidenced by the meeting, is in line with the general movement throughout the country under the leadership of President Hoover, in rallying together all forces possible to relieve distress next winter. The program of employment as necessary to meet this need, has been suggested by the experiences of the past winter here.

Permanent Body Planned

The permanent committee on unemployment, as proposed, would include three members each to be appointed by the mayor, county board of supervisors, Welfare association, service clubs and the Chamber of Commerce, as well as six at large, three of whom would be women. The mayor would act as chairman of this committee.

Civic bodies represented at the meeting were: City council, Chamber of Commerce, T. M. C. A., B. P. O. E., American Legion, American Red Cross, Manufacturing association, Trades and Labor association, board of supervisors, Knights of Columbus, Welfare association, Rotary club, Carpenters union, Kiwanis club and other interested organizations.

Resolutions Adopted

The group adopted resolutions which had been approved by a special committee of seven, composed of W. E. Downer, chairman, A. J. Magnus, A. L. St. Denis, B. L. Gallaher, Rev. Vernon Shontz, F. M. Ziegler and Fred Kaufman.

Speakers at the meeting declared it is the obligation of the com-

STOCKBRIDGE, IN TALK ON VILLAGES HITS CHESTERTON

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass. — (INS) — From this picturesque village, originator of the small town improvement movement, there went out the other day a stout defense of the American villages against the criticism of men like G. K. Chesterton who profess to have found them uncouth.

Frank Parker Stockbridge, Editor of The American Press, was speaking at the annual meeting of the Lauro Hill Association.

"We have no ancient ruins," he said, "because we are not an ancient country. Unlike the English, we no longer have muddy or cobble-paved streets in our villages because we won't put up with discomfort when we have the remedy in our own hands."

"And we don't live in picturesque but unsanitary thatched cottages, because we who inhabit these little American towns own our own homes and can build them to suit ourselves and not to suit some noble landlord's idea of what is good enough for his peasantry."

Emphasizing that in this country, following the American tradition, the work of making the village beautiful, to be lasting must spring from the people themselves, he cited the failure of attempts to impose beauty upon communities from without, as in model towns built by humanitarian employers.

"One of the causes of the growing movement for village improvement," Mr. Stockbridge said further, "is the fact that the small towns of America are growing larger and larger, and carrying out their community projects."

"The larger the number of persons living in a given town, the simpler becomes the problem of carrying out any program of improvement," he said.

"And there must be business, work, something in the nature of a gainful occupation for everybody who has not an independent income, before a community can give very serious consideration to its aesthetic and non-utilitarian development."

"Stockbridge," said the speaker, quoting from a United States Department of Agriculture paper on town-planning, "has probably had a greater influence for good on other towns than any village in the country, and he went on to cite developments in the small town of Wamego, Kansas, with only 1,647 population, making its modern while still a farmer's trading center with farmer's picnics and Chautauques; Fair Dell village in Sauk County, Wisconsin; The Armada, Mich., community fair and in Massachusetts, Weston, Hadley, Cohasset, "I believe," he said, "that it is a sound conclusion that this movement will grow, as economic and social conditions favor its growth, until we shall find American villages taking as much pride in beauty as they do in economic progress."

N. E. APPLE CAMPAIGN

BOSTON — (INS) — An apple day keeps the doctor away. By radio and newspaper advertising, this famous slogan will be brought to the attention of the public, sponsored by an association of apple growers in the six New England states. This is the announcement of Harry R. Lewis, of Providence, R. I., chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the New England Council. A series of 24 weekly programs devoted to New England apples has been arranged to be broadcast over stations WBZ and WEEA, of Springfield and Boston. The time of the program is 11:15 a. m. Lewis says New England's apple crop represents a total value of $12,000,000 annually.

Community to take every precaution to uphold the morale and courage of the unemployed, through administering employment and needed relief wisely.

Will Raise Funds

That the work will require much thought and effort for the community in the preventative work of conserving the initiative, self-help and independence of people who are exposed to the degradation incident to the loss of work, status and morale, was the spirit of the meeting.

The duty of this committee shall be to determine the needs arising in the community, secure funds, and administer the program of employment and relief.

VETS TO STAGE PARADE MONDAY

Will Be Feature of Spanish-American War Reunion

Patriotic organizations of the city will participate in the parade which will be given in front of the features of the three-day reunion of Company C, the volunteer unit which entered the government service from Muscatine at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war.

The reunion will formally open here on Sunday afternoon, with registration of members of the company at the Grand Hotel. William Hillmer, of the local post, will be in charge of the registration. More than 50 members of the company are expected to attend the reunion.

A business meeting of the company members will be held Monday at 2 p. m. when a permanent organization will be formed and a decision made as to whether the reunion will be made an annual event.

Announce Line of March

According to plans announced today by Louis C. Kautz, one of the committee in charge, a band concert will be given in front of the Grand hotel Monday at 7 p. m. and will be followed by the parade at 7:30. The parade will form at the court house and will be in charge of Captain Guy Doshier of the United States army.

Led by Captain Doshier, the line-up will include the Muscatine Company, Spanish-American war veterans, Spanish-American war automobiles, Spanish-American war veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and Boy Scouts.

The route of the parade will be through the city streets to Second street, counter-march on Second street to Front street, and south to Front street, where the parade will disband. The banquet program will be given at the Elks club immediately after the parade.

Ed Erb Toastmaster

All Spanish-American war veterans as well as veterans of the Civil war have been invited to attend the banquet. Edward Erb of Burlington, will act as toastmaster. The speakers will include Mayor H. G. Thompson. The dinner will be served by ladies of the First Baptist church.

The program for Tuesday including a stag picnic for the Spanish-American war veterans, who will meet at the Grand hotel at 1:30 and proceed to a camp along the Cedar river. The outing will be open to all veterans of the Spanish-American war, whether members of Company C or not. Ladies attending the reunion will be taken on a sight-seeing trip over the city.

Members of the committee in charge of the reunion emphasized that the reunion will be open to all Spanish-American war veterans.

Bloomington Farm Women Organized For Project Work

Farm Bureau women of Bloomington township were organized for project work Wednesday with the election of Mrs. Bert Nelson as chairman, at a meeting held with Mrs. A. E. Oostendorp. The meeting was led by Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. G. W. Wiggers was named as publicity chairman and Mrs. Fred Otto as treasurer. The fourth year clothing project was adopted for 1932. Co-operators were named as follows: Mrs. Walter Hetzler, Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Carl Le Fever, Mrs. Fred Otto, Mrs. R. S. Paetz, Mrs. S. Van Zandt, Mrs. E. Eckhardt, Mrs. Fred Satterthwaite, Mrs. Merrill Satterthwaite, Mrs. A. E. Oostendorp, Mrs. Frank Bamford and Mrs. Ida Houseman.

SAVOLDI BEATS SARPOLIS

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football player, won from Karl Sarpolis, Cleveland, in straight falls Sarpolis lost the first fall when he was disqualified for slugging.

LAMED-PELICAN'S HAVEN

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — (INS) — "Market street sanctuary" is the name given to a dumping grounds which has been turned into a home for infirm or injured sea gulls and pelicans. Jack Paynter, shore boat skipper is responsible for the haven. Paynter brings disabled birds to the "sanctuary." In the best sea gull and pelican circles, it is said, Paynter is given credit for saving the lives of hundreds of birds.

PLAN NO MORE ACTION UPON DEBT HOLIDAY

Administration Turns Hands Down on Plea For Longer Recess

(Continued from Page One)

looking to reparations revision or extension of the moratorium is uncertainty of the attitude of congress, which has yet to formally approve the year's debt holiday of last June.

Will Approve Debt Recess

President Hoover obtained informal assurances of bi-partisan support of his move last June, and the year's holiday will be approved once congress meets. But the approval will not be forthcoming without considerable debate and some opposition.

Administration critics are planning to emphasize in no uncertain manner the sacrifices entailed in Mr. Hoover's plan—that it costs the U. S. treasury $250,000,000 in revenue this year at a time when there is a billion dollar deficit; that it has incited European debts to renew agitation for the cancellation of $11,000,000,000 war debts owed the United States; and that it has rendered their ever being paid that much more difficult.

In addition, the administration critics are going to point out that at the very time Europe was being relieved through the moratorium, literally thousands of American farmers were being foreclosed out of their farms through inability to meet mortgages—some of them held by the government itself, through the federal farm loan banks.

The plan to ask "how about a moratorium at home!"

Congress Criticizes Hoover

Until this wave of congressional criticism can be met and overcome, the president's counselors believe it would be "extremely inadvisable" for Mr. Hoover to initiate at this time any further move in the direction of European financial relief.

Of course, as pointed out in these dispatches last June, no one in Washington believes that Germany will resume her reparations payments at the expiration of the moratorium next June, nor that the allies will resume their annual debt payments to the treasury.

In the first place, it is recognized that twelve months is far too short a time for Germany to recover from the financial precipice on which she was hanging; in the second place, the question of the moratorium's extension will arise next June. At that time the political conventions will be on in the United States, and the country just getting squared away for a particularly hectic presidential campaign.

Recess Will Be Granted

With the pressure from the bankers, which is already being exerted, from German sympathizers, and from the debt cancellations, in favor of extending the moratorium, it is as much of a certainty as anything that it will be granted, whether by American or European initiative makes little difference.

But for the time being, and until the dread debate in congress is over, no further steps are planned by the administration.

Many Expected to Hear Baker Speak At Le Claire, Ia.

Thousands of farmers are expected tonight to flock to the Indian school house No. 4, two and one-half miles north of Pleasant Valley, and hear Norman Baker of this city, champion of the farmer and laborer, discuss his plan for a single unit farm organization. He is scheduled to commence his address at 8 p. m.

Mr. Baker's plan for a united farm organization has been attracting considerable attention from not only the farmers themselves, but city merchants as well, because he would aid the grower of farm products and raise the price of stock, will be of ultimate benefit to the urban resident.

Saturday afternoon Mr. Baker is scheduled to address a gathering at Fairbanks, Ia. He will commence his talk at 2 p. m. The K-T-N-T artists will also appear on this program.

In the evening of the same day Mr. Baker will speak at Washington park, Waterloo, Ia., and on Sunday he will speak at Mt. Vernon at 1:30 p. m. and Keystone, Ia., at 4 p. m.

Warning

The quickest way to get rich is to start taking advantage of the Bargains at Finkle's. For instance: SILK HOSE — Full fashioned hose, reinforced heel and toe. Regular $1.98 value. Extra special pair 49c

SARDINES — Special brand "Skipper" Snacks. Per can, only 5c

MUSLIN — 36-inch wide. Reg. 10c grade. Very special. Saturday only, per yard 4 1/2c

More Values for Less Money 322 East Second Street Muscatine, Iowa

Mail Orders Given Prompt Attention.

FINKLE'S General Store

Weather Will Be Cooler on Friday, Today's Forecast

Muscatine and vicinity will experience somewhat cooler weather on Friday, according to the state weather report issued today. Tonight and Friday will be partly cloudy, with rising temperatures to-night in the northwest portion and cooler in the northwest portion on Friday, the forecast says.

Temperatures here on Wednesday afternoon were in the nineties, but dropped somewhat during the night. The mercury, for the third consecutive day, stood at 74 degrees at 7 a. m. today. The river fell an additional two inches in the past twenty-four hours to reach a stage of 4 of a foot above the low water mark.

Final Rites Held For Mrs. J. Brewer

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Brewer, who died Tuesday morning, were held today at 2 p. m. from the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. P. McCormick, 1213 Grand avenue. Burial was made at Kethusburg with the Rev. Benjamin F. Schwartz, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Pallbearers were Clarence Mockmore, Edward McCormick, Fred Jackson, Glen Brewer, James Knox and Harry Hearn. Flower attendants were Mrs. Etta Rogers and Mrs. Eva Mockmore.

TEMPERATURES HIGH IN WEEK

Crops Suffered From Abnormal Weather Over State

Unusually high temperatures, low humidity, strong winds and practically no rainfall, made the past week an outstanding one in the weather history of Iowa, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin received here today from Charles D. Reed, government meteorologist.

With the average temperature of 80.9 degrees, it was the second warmest week of the season, exceeded only by the week ending June 30, which had an average temperature of 87.5. Coming late in the season, the heat of the current week was 15.5 degrees above the normal, while the last week in June was 15.8 above the normal.

Afternoon temperatures were generally between 90 and 100 degrees. The sunshine was scorching and 18 degrees above normal in duration.

Corn Badly Affected

Corn was again rushed too rapidly, and the leaves and stalks were dried and killed with little chance for the plants to move the accumulated materials into ears. Only in very small areas in the southern portion of the state was the moisture sufficient to preserve the corn plants from the heat. About 85 per cent of the crop is now safe from frost.

Silo filling and fodder cutting continue in a strenuous effort to save the valuable elements in the leaves and stalks that would normally be transferred to the ear, but which cannot occur this year. Sparks from locomotives started some fires. The water supply is becoming alarmingly short in many sections of the state. In some places, farmers are hauling water long distances for livestock. Many towns and villages are under unusual fire hazards.

Many new outbreaks of hog cholera are being reported. It is considered probable that the losses this year will exceed those of 1926.

PAY RAISES DEFERRED

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (INS) — City officials here have asked municipal workers to give up any idea of getting pay raises this year. Teachers were due for a total of $65,000, and other workers were to receive raises in proportion. The board of finance had been asked to supply $700,000 to use for unemployed in the next winter, and to do it without issuing bonds. So the board of finance is seeking ways of getting the $700,000.

---at BATTERSON'S

Fall Showing

of Fashions
Fit For a Queen

See Our Fall Opening Windows Thursday

These are exciting days at Batterson's — with new coats, dresses, millinery and accessories arriving daily and by Thursday our showing of NEW THINGS for FALL will be complete and ready for you to assemble your new wardrobe. In keeping with the Batterson policy of always having the right things at the right time and at low prices that fairly challenge competition.

Luxurious Coats

... for the Miss, the woman and the woman and Miss hard to fit. Regular and half-sizes. Smart new fastenings, higher waist lines and new "Lel collar" of luxurious velvet. Boucle and rough woolsens are popular fabrics. $19.90 to $98.50

Charming Frocks

— that follow the dictates of "Em press Eugene" — they're very feminine and therefore naturally flattering. Rich transparent velvets, lovely satins, soft flat crepes and light weight woolsens in the season's new colorings. "Ask to see the new Spanish Tile shades"

Others $5.90 to $35

The New Millinery Fashions

"That Dare You to Be Different" ... and why not? To be different is to be interesting and that is just what the new hats are — very interesting. Smart little veils on a chic tricornie of fine felt — or a close fitting little model in velvet or velor. You'll find our millinery shop brim full right now — of the right styles at the right prices.

Moderately Priced at

$1.85 - $2.95 - $3.95

OTHERS UP TO $7.50

SECOND FLOOR

New Fall Gloves will be several shades darker than those you wore last winter. The flared cuff and outside stitching of a contrasting color are two of the outstanding fashions this season. The Kayser Chamossette $1.50

Your summer handbag or one left from last winter will look terribly shabby with your new clothes. And just think, you can have a new one for $2.95

These new all-silk, 45 gauge chiffon silk hose with picot top will be the ideal hose for your Fall Ensemble. Kayser "the mark of distinction" represents all that is "good" in hose $1.65

Your new clothes will fit correctly if worn over the right unders. This combination is cut to eliminate all surplus fabric over the hips $1.95

Lucky in Pictures---Unlucky in Love

The private lives of Hollywood's first families go haywire so regularly that the film colony has coined a new rule of life, "Lucky in pictures, unlucky in love," which usually works out

He wanted a home and kiddies . . . and she hated prize fights . . . so, after a while, the romance of Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor hit the shoals . . . and the luck that had followed Estelle through the movies failed her.

Defying the tradition are William Powell and Carole Lombard, newlyweds.

Just one more item in the "lucky in pictures, unlucky in love" group . . . is the divorce suit filed against John Gilbert, screenland's "perfect lover," by Ina Claire . . . ending one of Hollywood's famous off-screen romances.

By DAN THOMAS

WHEN you're lucky in the movies you're apt to be more or less unlucky in love. In other words, nobody can have everything—not even in Hollywood.

The film colony is beginning to come to this conclusion after watching a long series of broken romances on the part of some of its most famous stars. One after another, the great ones of filmland have discovered that the fortune which follows them in the world of pictures has a way of letting them down with a bump when it comes to affairs of the heart.

Any number of instances could be cited to bear out this contention. A few have been so thoroughly publicized in recent months that the average movie fan will recall them instantly.

There is, for instance, the divorce suit filed by Ina Claire against John Gilbert.

That was just one more item in the "Lucky in pictures, unlucky in love" group.

Gilbert, known as the perfect lover, found that his romantic gestures didn't go so well in real life. Ina Claire, who dashes through one gay and glamorous love affair after another in the films and on the stage, discovered that she couldn't hold her own husband.

Miss Claire charged Gilbert with mental cruelty. He had already said that she was too intellectual to love.

They knew everything there was to know about romance, so it seemed, but they couldn't make a go of marriage.

INA CLAIRE, beautiful and blond, had been on the stage ever since she was 14. She had already had her share of stage successes when she went to Chicago with "Polly With a Past," in 1919.

James Whittaker, dramatic critic, was connected with a Chicago paper. He was promptly intrigued by the young actress. He began to be seen in her company very frequently, and friends of the two watched a new romance bloom. One day, between the matinee and evening performances, the two were married.

Ina Claire left the stage. She even did her own work in the three-room flat on the North Side of Chicago, for the first week or two.

But the "love-in-a-cottage" stuff which is so charming on the stage, didn't last. Miss Claire received an attractive offer to star in a new play in New York. She accepted.

Her husband wrote a criticism of her acting that wasn't exactly complimentary.

The trouble started. The two temperaments couldn't click. Eventually Ina went to Paris and got a divorce. All in all, six years elapsed from the marriage to the divorce.

Meantime, Ina Claire went merrily along the gay theatrical thoroughfare. She was recognized as one of the most talented of the young Broadway actresses. She excelled in high comedy. If she brought a play to New York, so the story ran, it was proof that it would "jell."

The movies came along. The theatrical world went west. And Ina Claire went along, in 1929, storms of applause following after.

But the stars of the cinema frankly explained that they really didn't know who she was. She was making a picture and it wasn't going very well. They one night she went to a party. John Gilbert was there.

HE noticed a very pretty blond girl, and started to talk to her. Pretty soon he decided that she was the nicest blond with whom he had ever chatted. She didn't talk about herself at all.

So the romance began. Each was genuinely interested in the other. Gilbert insisted that Ina was really the nicest grown-up person he had ever met.

Gilbert was one of the most popular, enthusiastic, colorful members of the film colony. He had written some scripts, directed some plays, and then clicked as an actor. He was hailed as the master lover.

Just the same he had had two romances break for him. The first was with Olive Burwell. The next with Leatrice Joy. This marriage took place in 1921 and ended when Leatrice got a divorce in 1925.

In May, the next month after Ina Claire met John Gilbert, the couple took the train to Las Vegas, Nevada, one day. Two thousand people were on the platform to greet them when their private car pulled in. Everyone knew that the two famous lovers, one of the stage, the other of the screen, were aboard. Everyone highly approved when a municipal judge performed the ceremony that united them.

John and Ina came back to Hollywood and kept right on working.

"I have married the nicest girl I ever met," John Gilbert said. "She is the most charming person I have ever encountered."

HE praised her beauty, talent, charm, and accomplishments, but more than these he said he was glad that she was an interesting, absorbing human being.

Ina Claire, for her part, made much the same kind of statements about her husband. Each was decidedly glad the other had a sense of humor.

Ina Claire's picture, "The Awful Truth," wasn't successful. In order to show Hollywood what she really could do, the actress did a stage production of "Rebound," for which her movie idol husband bought 500 tickets and threw a gigantic party that included all the notables in the make-believe world at Hollywood.

Norma Talmadge and Joseph M. Schenck were called Hollywood's model couple. . . . But Norma centers her attention now on Gilbert Rowland, with whom she is shown here.

The moguls awakened to her ability as an actress. Ina Claire went away. But she came back to star in five films. Talkies favored her, for she had worked for years with the human voice, and was ready.

But as Ina Claire's star went up John Gilbert's swung a little lower. He had a soprano voice. He could make love beautifully, but his audience wanted his terms of endearment uttered in firmer tones. Science got busy in an effort to deepen and lower his voice.

Ina Claire, who had worked for years with the voice

(Copyright, 1931, by EveryWeek Magazine—Printed in U. S. A.)

Nancy Carroll had luck on the screen, didn't have it in her first marriage . . . and now has gone to the altar again. . . . Above, Nancy and her first husband, Jack Kirkland . . . below, Nancy and Hubby No. 2, Bolton Mallory.

as a medium of expression, offered some suggestions. She did it to be kind.

Her husband didn't like it, it was said. Ina Claire's reaction had been rather similar when Whittaker had once criticized her acting.

Once started, the marriage went rolling down the hill.

Finally the two stars took up separate residences. They called it a "perfect experiment." They insisted that their marriage was a success. But they had their careers to think about.

But when Miss Claire filed suit for a divorce in Los Angeles in July of 1931, the truth came out.

She charged her husband with mental cruelty. She said that the man who could make love so beautifully on the stage had told her several times to leave their home. He told his wife that she wasn't suited to him temperamentally. Once he had rejoiced because she was alert and stimulating. Now he said that she was "too smart to love."

In August of 1930, she said, she told him that she was going to New York for a theatrical engagement. He became angry. She went anyway.

In October she wrote, asking if he would come on to New York or if she should return to Los Angeles. The perfect lover replied that she needn't come back. In February when she came west he refused to see her.

The separation continued and the divorce suit followed in short order.

Lady Luck, who had taught the two all she knew of surface love-making for stage uses, hadn't given them any lasting secrets.

ESTELLE TAYLOR was another who discovered that her luck in pictures was the thing that made her unlucky in marriage.

Jack Dempsey and Estelle fell in love with the same swiftness that prompted Ina Claire and John Gilbert.

Jack had wanted an old-fashioned wife. Estelle was modern. But he was so in love with her that he was willing to agree to separate bank accounts and double careers. Estelle hated prize fights. But she loved the champion, so his boxing didn't matter.

Each admitted a great deal of pride in the other's success, however. So the marriage started, in February of 1925. But they didn't get to see each other so much. Estelle had to be in California at the studios and Jack had his work in the east. When she had time between pictures he was apt to be on the road.

They had an agreement, though. When he left the ring she would leave the stage.

Because they were apart so much Hollywood started to circulate rumors of separation, just as it had done for Ina Claire and the screen's most perfect lover. The Dempseys denied them. They explained that they were very much in love. Their work kept them apart.

After a while Jack lost his championship. Estelle sailed on, winning more and more fame.

Jack wanted children. Estelle announced that she would keep her career as long as she could. She was becoming interested in opera. Children were not on her program.

So after a while the romance hung itself. Jack went to Reno to sue for a divorce in April of 1931. He explained that he still loved his wife, but he wanted a home and children. He had left the ring, but she wouldn't leave the stage, he said.

Both were very kind about it all. Incompatibility. That was all. Lucky in pictures, but unlucky in love.

THEN there is Nancy Carroll, whose first marriage started out so well and ended with a fadeout. Nothing sensational. Just the passing of romance. She is starting another romance now, and Hollywood is hoping that she can be as lucky in this marriage as she has been in her pictures.

Nancy Carroll recently married Bolton Mallory, editor of "Life." Here again there will be the separate career idea.

Nancy had every chance for a lasting romance before, but somehow or other romance did a fadeout along the way. The star was in the back row of a Broadway chorus when Jack Kirkland, the reporter-playwright, saw her. The couple fell in love, and were married in June, 1924.

Jack was interested in Nancy's career. She was interested in his. He got busy and helped Nancy get started on the road to stardom. He was enjoying a measure of success, although Nancy had swung way above him.

The Carroll-Kirkland marriage lasted until June of 1931. During the last part of it, though, Nancy, now a star, was very busy. Somehow or other her husband wasn't necessary to her happiness any more.

The separation of Lawrence Tibbett and his wife is another case in point. Married in 1919, the Tibbetts got along splendidly until Tibbett won his great success in the talkies. Now they have drifted apart, and Mrs. Tibbett explains that the Hollywood triumph was fatal to their marital happiness.

William Powell and Carole Lombard, both stars of the first magnitude, have been married recently. They have kept their romance very quiet, as something personal. Whether they will have luck in love as well as in pictures hasn't appeared in the cards as yet.

Norma Talmadge and Joseph M. Schenck, both of whom have had unusual luck in pictures, Norma, as an actress, Schenck, as a producer, have always been looked on as one of Hollywood's model married couples. But once again the old theory seems to be proving true. Norma is centering her interests on Gilbert Rowland, Hollywood has observed.

Additional Sports

NORTHWESTERN IS PICKED TO RETAIN TITLE

Whole Thing Resolves Itself Into Problem Of Book-Keeping

(Continued from Page Five)

Dick Fencil, a scrappy youngster from St. Philip's, will start at Oliphant's old post, where he should be one of the stars of the league.

The other end position will be fought out by Ralph Eyer, reserve last year; Ed Manske from Nekeosha, Wis.; Art Jens, from Wheaton, Ill.; and Howard Kostabade, captain of Tilden's City championship team two years ago. All of them are big, brawny boys. Eyer, because of his experience, will have the edge.

Two Fine Tackles

There are no worries for Hanley at tackle. Capt. Dallas Marvill and Jack Riley are as fine a pair as ever graced one football team. Dal weighs 227 pounds, while his partner tips the beam at only a few pounds less. Both are 6 feet, 2 inches tall and as fast on their feet as a lightweight.

Paul Engerbreten will be a capable reserve, unless he's moved to center.

Jimmy Evans, a steady, dependable young man, will undoubtedly continue at one of the guard positions, where he has been a regular for the past two years. The other is a free-for-all, with George Dille, a reserve of last year, as the most logical candidate. Dick Hanley smiles mysteriously and says, "Look out for this fellow," when he mentions Dille.

Center is another open spot, the chief contenders being Harold Weidman, a 161-pound third stringer of last year; and Milt Froberg, a sophomore. Froberg weighs 182 and is 6 feet, 2 1/2 inches tall.

Two Great Backs

That disposes of the line. Now we come to the backfield—and what a backfield! How can it be anything else when it has two men like Rentner and Russell to build around? Reb, playing his last year, still insists in his Oklahoma drawl that all they need is "just let me pce my haid through that line." Then he does the rest for five to twenty yards.

Rentner would easily have attained all-conference ranking last fall, had he not been injured before the Wisconsin and Notre Dame games. He can forward pass accurately up to at least sixty yards. He can also do some fancy ball carrying, and backs up a line in good style.

At Meador, who played fullback and halfback at various times last year, is slated to be a third member of the backfield. He will call the signals, although it's going to be a tough job replacing Lee Hanley.

Meenan Good Prospect

One of Coach Hanley's promising sophomores will round out the backfield. The most likely fourth man is Ken Meenan, an all-state star from Oak Park, Ill. Sullivan, former Loyola academy luminary; Oliver Olson, from Wheaton, Ill.; and George Potter, from Omaha, Neb., are also potential stars. Sullivan weighs 160, Olson 172, Potter 178 and Meenan 191 pounds.

The probable Northwestern starting lineup against Nebraska October 3 will be:

Fencil (164) and Eyer (170), ends; Riley (218) and Marvill (227) tackles; Evans (172) and Dille (174), guards; Froberg (182), center; Moore (175), quarterback; Rentner (181) and Meenan (191), halfbacks; Russell (192), fullback.

Northwestern's Big Ten schedule includes Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana and Iowa. Just how anyone of these can stop the Wildcats, we don't see. And since we're not able to see such a contingency, there should be no hesitation in predicting that Northwestern will finish on top once more—barring accidents to which all teams are prey. The most serious of these, in this instance, will be the failure of the Wildcat stars to live up to their reputations.

JACK MAY GET DECREE MONDAY

RENO, Nev. — (INS) — Robert Burns, attorney for Jack Dempsey, announced today there was a possibility the former heavyweight champion might receive a divorce decree here next Monday or Tuesday. Estelle Taylor, Dempsey's wife, must file an answer to his complaint by 5 p. m. Friday, he said. Anytime thereafter Dempsey could receive a default decree if no answer is filed.

Initial Scrimmage Of Season Held by Iowa Varsity Team

IOWA CITY, Ia. — (INS) — After making several changes in the first string of the University of Iowa varsity football team at the practice here this morning, Coach Burt Ingwersen planned to send his men through their first scrimmage of the season this afternoon. In a dummy practice this morning Ingwersen replaced Joe Laws at quarterback on the first team with Jim Graham, and took Swaney out of active drill and placed Francis Metten at end-post. Schmidt, Kriz, Baker and Hickman, backs who are trying for the job as kickers for the first string held another long workout this morning, with all four getting off some good punts against a slight wind.

Kittenball Teams To Stage Tourney At Farmers' Picnic

Five township teams have been entered in the kittenball tournament to be held in connection with the annual Farm Bureau picnic Saturday at the West Liberty fair grounds, it was announced today by Carl Rylander, county agent. Teams from Wapishonoc and Wilton townships will play at 12:30, and the Cedar and Lake township teams will meet at 1:30. The winner of the Wapishonoc-Wilton game will play the Seventy-Six township team in the finals to be staged at 3 o'clock.

GENE FAVORED TO BEAT SMITH

Von Elm Also Favors Walker, Armour and Burke to Win

By GEORGE VON ELM

WRITTEN FOR THE MIDDLEBURY PRESS BY THE MIDDLEBURY PRESS. R. T. Von Elm, a professional golfer, doesn't spend much time on the golf links excepting when I am playing myself, but I got a great kick out of watching Gene Sarazen hit the ball in the professional championship yesterday. There is no man in the tournament who is playing quite so well as the Italian-American, and I look for him to go to the final stages of this championship.

Gene is my choice to beat Horton Smith today. A year or so ago when Smith was winning everything in sight, no one would have had the nerve to pick Gene to beat him so definitely, but Horton isn't himself at all, even though he beat Willie MacFarlane so comfortably. In Smith's case it is impossible to predict what kind of a round he will have from day to day, yet I think it is safe to say that no man can play as badly as he did against MacFarlane yesterday and hope to beat Gene Sarazen the next day. You can't come on your game quite so suddenly.

Walker Gets Better

Cyril Walker is a hard man to beat at match play. Johnny Golden found that out yesterday; I think Tom Creavy will discover it today. Walker is the type of golfer who gets better with success, and if for no other reason, I think he has too much experience for the youngsters from Albany. I picked four out of eight winners in the second round—Sarazen, Creavy, Burke and Armour.

Today my selections are: Sarazen to beat Smith, Walter to beat Tom Creavy, Armour to beat Shute and Burke to beat Espinosa.

Burke is too good around the greens for Espinosa, particularly since Abe is likely to be celebrating his defeat of Bill Mehlhorn. That match between Abe and Bill was the classic of the day; they were like two fighters squaring off for a ten-round bout. It may not have been golf or good sportsmanship, but they certainly gave the spectators a thrill.

Gallery Trails Them

The gallery seemed to sense the antagonism between the two and they trailed after them in high class. But when it was all over and Espinosa had won, the two got together in the locker room, forgot their grievance and joined in a "Sweet Adeline" harmony. Armour seemed to have difficulty in the morning round against Walker Murray, trying to get a lead, and he couldn't seem to get his shots clicking at all. But later Tommy played fine golf to win 5 and 3.

Today we should see some fine golf; at least there are four good matches scheduled. The outstanding battle should be the meeting between Armour and Shute. Each of the eight survivors today are entirely different in their method of play, so the spectator can take his choice.

LOOP FLAG WON BY DES MOINES

Demons Clinch Second Half With Ninth Straight Win

DES MOINES, Ia. — (INS) — Winners of the second half of the Western league season by virtue of its ninth straight victory last night, the Des Moines Demons today they played seven games with Pueblo and Denver.

Wichita, winner of the first half competition, will meet the Demons in a play-off for the league championship. The seven game series is to begin here Sept. 25.

Omaha, last night's victim for the Demons, dropped their seventh straight to the local team. The Imps have scored 114 runs in their last seven games against the Packers.

Les Mann Figures Hornsby as One of Three Best Pitchers

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (INS) — "Rogers Hornsby is one of the three greatest managers in the National League," according to Les Mann, former major league player, now engaged in promoting baseball throughout the country. Mann roomed with Hornsby for three years while playing with the St. Louis Cardinals. Asked by newspapermen if he could explain Hornsby's unpopularity in some circles, Mann said: "I can't answer that, but I know of two cases where he received great publicity and each time he was the goat in some frame-up." "Hornsby is a man of fine habits," Mann continued. "He doesn't smoke, drink or chew. I've never found him anything but square. He says what he thinks at all

CARDINALS TO BATTLE A'S IN WORLD SERIES

Athletics Chalk Up 100th Victory in Season's Play

(Continued from Page Five)

the Chicagoans into the cellar. Webb is only one clout behind George Burns' world record for 64 doubles in a season.

Washington moved further ahead of New York in the battle for second place in the American league with Al Crowder hurling the Senators to a 6 to 2 advantage over the Browns of St. Louis.

Scores by innings:

NATIONAL LEAGUE
At Chicago:	000 000 014—5 12 0	Batteries: Bell, Haid and Cronin; Malone and Hartnett.
Second game:	031 100 200—7 12 0	Batteries: Cantelero, Hughes and Bollen; Welch, Warneke, Teachout, Bush and Hendrix.
At Cincinnati:	000 101 051—8 12 0	Batteries: Hubbell and Hogan; Lucas and Aaby.
Second game:	000 001 010—3 10 1	Batteries: Parmelee, Beryl and O'Farrell; Hogan, Caffery, Ogden and Sulestorf.
At St. Louis:	000 001 000—3 6 0	Batteries: Collins, Blake and Davis; Hallahan and Wilson, Gonzales.
At Pittsburgh:	000 001 000—3 6 0	Batteries: Shauke, Clark and Lopez; Wood, Kremer, Steinicke, Brame and Phillips.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
At Philadelphia:	000 000 000—0 6 0	Batteries: Perrell and Myatt; Karmshaw and Cochrane.
At Washington:	010 000 100—2 10 2	Batteries: Coffman and Bengough; Perrell, Crowder, Marberry and Spencer.
At Boston:	000 100 000—2 6 0	Batteries: Fraser and Grube; Durham and Connolly.

while Bob Hanson also has been given much attention at one of the wing positions. Clarence Mills, diminutive quarterback, who is new at the game, has been called Kinnan's plays the past two weeks and looks like a starter at this position. Guessegren also has been doing some fine backfield work in the line of blocking and tackling, while Bob Weber is a power on line backs.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

MUSKY HI WILL BATTLE TIPTON

Fans All Steamed Up Over Grid Opener Friday Night

(Continued from Page Five)

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

Only light practice will be held at the field tonight, with no scrimmage. Dummy pass defense and other defenses will be stressed by the team, providing Gene Minder is on the bench Friday night, but John Barko may also be given a chance at booting some.

Good Reserve Material

Other backs who are expected to see service after the opening call are Ed Dillon and Tom McGuire, halfbacks, Louis Kammerer, fullback and Fred Heerd, quarterback. Roscoe Slack has been alternating with Butts at one of the tackles with Francis Fallischeck working at the other. John Brockway is also being given considerable consideration at one of the tackle posts. Other guards besides Worke and Utley are Hintermeister, Davis, Moss and Froehner. Max Lee has been alternating with Horst at the pivot job.

OUTSTANDING VALUES OF THE YEAR

5000 PAIRS BLANKETS

PURCHASED BY HOAGLIN'S

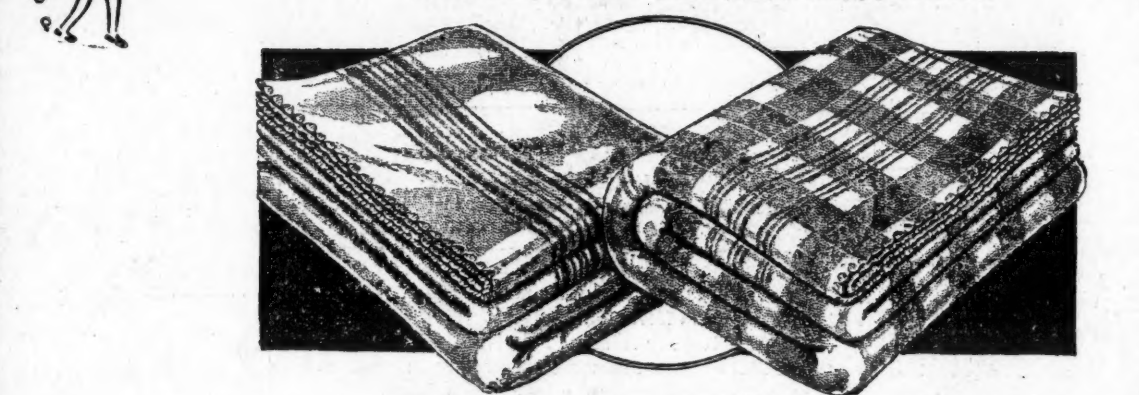

In order to make it possible for you to buy Blankets at LESS than present day value, the entire overstock of one of America's foremost blanket mills was offered to us for spot cash at a discount so great we couldn't afford to pass them up. This saving is now passed on to our customers. We urge you not to miss this important sale as these are high quality Blankets priced far below the new low prices of the season.

On Sale Friday, Saturday and Monday One Cent BLANKET SALE

So great is our confidence in these Blanket values and our anxiety to have every Hoaglin Store customer participate and benefit in the immense savings we are going to sell them on the most liberal lay-away terms. You can pay as low as ONE CENT DOWN. Pay the balance in terms to suit yourself.

HOAGLIN'S

"Where Style and Price Meet in Happy Accord"

SALE of COMFORTERS and BLANKETS

PART WOOL

72 x 84 Sateen Bound
The finest quality made—thick, warm and fluffy. This durable Blanket will wash and wear to your own satisfaction. Comes in assorted colored plaids. Weights around 5 lbs. Double. While they last—

$2.98 No. 30

QUILTS

Beautiful patch work Quilts. Pure cotton filled—thoroughly quilted. Multi-colored patterns. Priced each, only—

$2.65 No. 40

COTTON BLANKETS

66 x 76 Single
Made of purest long fiber cotton. Comes in pastel shades with rainbow border. Soft as silk... Warm and durable.

45c No. 50

PART WOOL BLANKETS

72x84 Sateen Bound
If there ever was a Blanket Bargain—Here it is... Beautiful plaid Australian part wool Blankets. Approximately 5 lbs. weight. Thick, fluffy, warm, durable.

Double $2.35 No. 60

Pastel Blankets

70 x 80
Made of the highest quality long fiber cotton obtainable. Pastel shades. A value you'll never forget. Double.

$1.37 No. 70

SILK PUFFS

Great large comfortables... Wool filled—Covered with best quality silk and rayon satin. Silk cord bound. Reversible. Cheap at $10.50.

Each Only $6.95 No. 80

PART WOOL

70 x 80 Sateen Bound
Weight around four pounds. Comes in colored plaids with border to match. Thick, warm and fluffy. A value that will not be presented again this year. Buy several if you can get them.

$1.98 No. 20

COTTON BLANKETS

70 x 80 Single
This quality cotton Blanket would cost 30c one dollar elsewhere. It is made of the finest long fiber cotton and comes in pastel shades. While they last,

ea. 55c No. 10

Part Wool ROBES $2.19

We could hardly believe our eyes when we unpacked these Blankets and saw how fine a quality they really were. Nevertheless they must be sold right along with the rest at a seasonally low price. Please do not mail order this number as there are only 100 in the lot. Indian, black and dark plaid patterns. EACH ONLY

79c No. 100

Plaid-Cotton BLANKETS

A value of a lifetime. Long fiber cotton Blankets... woven for extra life. Assorted colored plaids. Buy several. Pair only—

$1.39 No. 80

Specials for Men and Boys at HOAGLIN'S Friday and Saturday

Men's Overalls

Men's Overalls, made of genuine white blue black denim—220 weight cloth. Cut full... double stitched—bar tacked and reinforced at all points of strain. All sizes up to 42. Friday and Saturday, pair 69c

Men's SHIRTS

Men's genuine English broadcloth shirts. Come in white, blue and green. Collar attached styles. Sizes 14 to 17. Regular $1 value. While they last, Friday and Saturday, each 69c

Boy's SHIRTS

Boys' new Dress Shirts—Made of fancy figured and striped broadcloths. Tans, greens and blues. Sizes 6 to 14 1/2. You'll want several at this new low price. Friday and Saturday, each 59c

Boy's Overalls

These sturdy Overalls are triple stitched, bar tacked and reinforced at all points of strain. Made of best quality 220 wt. blue denim. All sizes up to 16 yrs. Fri. and Sat., pair 49c

Work SHIRTS

Men's very good quality blue chambray Work Shirts. Two pockets. Coat style... triple stitched. Fast color. Sizes 14 1/2 to 17. Extra special. Friday and Saturday, each 44c

PAJAMAS

Values to $2.25
Men's fine Pajamas made of fancy figured and striped broadcloth and prints. Coat or slipover styles. Silk frog trimmed. Sizes A, B, C, D. A fortunate purchase enables us to offer these fine garments at such a low price. Friday and Saturday, pair $1.19

Special Notice

Mail orders will be filled as received. We will not guarantee to fill all orders received. Add 10c a Blanket to your purchase for postage and insurance. Mail your orders promptly to assure their arriving in time. Order by numbers. Personal checks or Money Orders accepted. SEND THIS COUPON WITH YOUR ORDER
Name _____
Town _____
State _____

UNION SUITS

Men's finest combed yarn Union Suits. Elastic knit, highly creased. Silk stitched. White or ecru. Light weight for fall wear. Sizes 36 to 46. Friday and Saturday, each 98c

SHIRTS

Smart new Dress Shirts of broadcloth or silk figured madras. Solid colors. White or figured effects. Sizes 14-17. Actual $1.95 value. While they last—Fri. and Sat.—each $1.19